GREAT PLAN OF PENNSYLVANIA IMPROVEMENTS

Entire Section Below Grant Street Will Be Encircled.

ELEVATED TRACKS ON BOTH RIVER FRONTS

Lines Will Run Along Water Street and Duquesne Way to the Point.

BRIDGES TO BE CHANGED

The Pennsylvania railroad has planned the greatest series of railroad improvements that has ever been made at one time in any city. These plans contemplate not only elevated tracks on Duquesne way and a gigantic freight terminal in the Point district and in close connection with the proposed series of warehouses, but elevated tracks along the Monongahela water front and around the Point itself.

When these improvements are completed the Pennsylvania will have the entire downtown portion of the city, between Grant street and the two rivers, enclosed in a great triangle of tracks, and any other competitor will have a hard time in reaching the great wholesale district of the city.

Although the plans of the promoters have been kept as secret as possible, details have been leaking out that make it certain that the road's officials are contemplating exactly this step.

Lines That Are Involved.

Involved in the scheme are the Pennsylvania railroad, with its main line, Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston, West Penn and Allegheny Valley divisions, all centering here, the Fort Wayne, the Panhandle, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pittsburgh & Western.

The disclosure of the project by The Gazette has awakened the most intense interest in the plans by all interested in property or business at the Point, as well as the river interests, which see a possible menace in the plan. Developments in the scheme are being watched with all eagerness to see what turn the promoters will finally give it.

As now understood, the full scheme involves, beside the immense warehouses, an elevated track down Duquesne way to replace the present track on Liberty street to the Duquesne freight station; elevated tracks down the Monongahela wharf, to give the Baltimore & Ohio direct entrance into the terminals; a new bridge across the Allegheny, to allow the Fort Wayne and the Pittsburgh & Western to reach the warehouses directly, and possibly a new bridge over the Monongahela, to allow the Panhandle to reach the same mecca.

Baltimore & Ohio Extension.

In first importance among the details of the general scheme comes the plan for extending the Baltimore & Ohio tracks from the Water street station down the busy wharf of the Monongahela to the general storage houses. Interest in this springs from the fear that the river traffic will be hurt by obstructions on the wharf. Railroad men interested in the deal say that no such harm will result, inasmuch as the whole line will be elevated 20 feet above the wharf, and the supporting steel posts for the elevated structure will be at least 50 feet apart.

That the plans of the Baltimore & Ohio are substantially as given can be stated on the authority of an official thoroughly familiar with the Pennsylvania projects in Pittsburgh. There have been as yet no detailed drawings of the whole plan, for the surveys needed to prepare such drawings would have been too plain a disclosure of the plan. The general outline, however, has become quite definite.

Plans to Be Modified.

To place this Baltimore & Ohio line requires modifying the plans for re-building the Panhandle bridge across the Monongahela at Try street. These changes have been decided upon, only within the past two weeks, despite the fact that the contract for re-building the bridge to comply with the orders of the war department was let several months ago to the American Bridge Company.

This bridge is now to be elevated even more than the war department ordered. It will be raised about eight feet, so that the dip in the Baltimore & Ohio tracks required to pass beneath that bridge can be removed.

The Panhandle bridge is now to be built to accommodate four tracks. Four tracks are being built on both the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston and the Panhandle, on the South Side, and this bridge will be made to accord. To elevate the bridge eight feet, important changes will need be made, it is said, in the tunnel, by which the tracks reach the Union station.

Along Water Street.

Taking a rising instead of a falling grade at Second avenue, the Baltimore & Ohio tracks will reach the Water street station several feet higher than at present.

It is planned to have two tracks pass the Water street station on the north side, on ground already owned by the railroad company. To cross Smithfield street, it will be needful to have the grade of the street lowered several feet in order that an elevation of at least 15 feet can be secured for the tracks. This will make necessary a change in the steep approach to the Smithfield street bridge and it is doubtful whether such a change can be made without altering the first span of that bridge.

The line along the wharf will be about half-way between Water street and the river's edge at ordinary stages. An elevation of 20 feet is promised along the wharf, with steel supports, in stone foundations, not closer together than 50 feet.

Opposition from the river interests to any attempt to build even an elevated road along the wharf is expected, and there are many indications that the expectations will be fulfilled. The need of the city for more railroad facilities, however, will be urged as the justication for the improvement, which the promoters say, will injure but little, if any, an easy approach to the river.

Opposition Is Expected.

About opposite Second street the line will turn to the north and reach the warehouses.

Little trouble is foreseen from the Wabash crossing on the Monongahela wharf, inasmuch as the Wabash bridge over the Monongahela at Ferry street will swing high above the proposed elevated Baltimore & Ohio line. At high water stage the bridge will be 60 feet above the river and at Water street, the

DYNAMITE BOMB THROWN AT BROOKLYN TROLLEY CAR

All the Windows Smashed and Passengers and Shopping Women Nearly Thrown Into a Panic.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Some person threw a dynamite bomb at a trolley car at it was passing up Willoughby street, Brooklyn, this afternoon, and created a panic. The windows of the vehicle were shattered, as were windows of houses for blocks around.

The scene of the explosion was in front of Hugh McLaughlin's headquarters, and Senator McCarren and James Shelvin were witnesses to the explosion. No one saw the bomb thrown, nor saw any suspicious-looking person. The report could be heard fully a mile away.

The passengers in the car rushed to the street and the women shoppers ran up and down the thoroughfare, screaming. Immediately several policemen ran to the scene and a call was sent for the reserves. Three thousand people blocked the avenue, and the reserves dispersed them. No one was injured.

After the excitement had subsided a search was made for remnants of the bomb, but only a few pieces of steel pipe were found.

Bomb at a Lumber Yard.

Because James Lawson, superintendent of a lumber yard at Hoboken, opened the gate this morning from the inside instead of the outside, he is still sound in limb. Had he shoved the sliding gate back from the outside he probably would be dead, as a bomb loaded with gun cotton was so placed that the superintendent's usual manner of entering the yard would have exploded it within three feet of him.

Next door to the lumber yard is the gunsmith shop of William Noelte, who sold a pistol to Mrs. Chartrand just before she shot and killed her husband, John Chartrand, the manager of a Hoboken skating rink. Noelte's wife recently received an anonymous letter saying that if Mrs. Chartrand were convicted Noelte would be driven from the city. The testimony he gave at the inquest in the Chartrand case contradicted the statement of Mrs. Chartrand in regard to the pistol.

Attracted His Curiosity.

Placed with its cap where a nail in the gate would explode it, Lawson found the infernal machine. As he was about to slide the gate, the peculiar-looking affair on the ground attracted his attention. It was cylindrical in form, 19 inches in length and four inches in diameter. It was covered with zinc and there was a cap on one end. Inside of it was a small quantity of gun cotton.

Health Commissioner Sinclair, who passed the lumber yard just as Mr. Lawson found the infernal machine, advised that it be thrown into the river without delay. Proprietor Hankins took the bomb to a Barclay street ferryboat and threw it into the middle of the river. Precinct Captain John Fanning was informed of the finding of the infernal machine, and was much disturbed when he learned what disposition had been made of it. The machine might have led to the discovery of its maker, but now the captain has no clew upon which to work.

Hankins, owner of the yard, says he has no enemies, so far as he is aware, who might seek to injure him or his property.

CAPTAIN HOBSON TAKES FIRST STEP FOR RETIREMENT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—Capt. Richmond Pierson Hobson, the naval constructor who sank the collier Merrimac in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba under the fire of Cervera's squadron, appeared today before the retiring board at the Washington navy yard. If the president approves his retirement he will be pensioned on a salary of about $3,000 a year for the remainder of his life.

Capt. Hobson's application for retirement is preliminary, it is believed, to his entrance into politics. He declines to discuss his political aspirations, but his friends do not doubt that if his district in Alabama desires to send him to congress he will be willing to accept the

FORBIDDEN CITY OF CHINA IS NO LONGER FORBIDDEN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PEKING, Jan. 23.—The ministers of the foreign powers here have attained the goal which has been their aim since intercourse between China and the powers began. They have been received as representatives of sovereigns equal in rank of the Chinese emperor.

The audiences yesterday between the emperor and the ministers were held in the innermost large hall of the Forbidden City. The emperor sat upon a dias behind a table. There were four princes at the back of his chair and a dozen officials at each side. The dowager empress was concealed by a screen, according to the stories of the attendants, and remained invisible.

Prince Ching Talks For the Court.

The audience chamber was furnished ornately, in contrast to the dingy rooms which served for these audiences under the old regime. The secretaries translated the addresses of the ministers, copies of which were handed to the emperor. The replies were delivered by Prince Ching.

The emperor was silent throughout the audience and remained stolid and impassive. Formerly the emperor replied to the ministers in Manchu and the prince interpreted what he said. Today he appeared as an automaton, and the secretaries of the foreign ministers, who were present, report that he looked weaker, less intellectual and more childish than prior to the siege of the legations.

British Envoy's Advice.

Sir Ernest Satow, the British representative, made an address in which he said:

"My august sovereign has charged me to express to your majesty his sincere desire to see the independence and the integrity of the Chinese empire maintained intact, and that the prosperity and happiness of the Chinese people may be hastened by the removal of obstacles to the free exchange of commodities, by the extension of manufactures and by the utilization of the resources of the soil.

"If, under the enlightened rule of your majesty, the barriers which in the past hindered the free and mutually advantageous intercourse of China with the rest of the world be completely removed and her domestic institutions wisely regulated, it is certain that China, advancing along the path of progress, will attain to a height of prosperity unknown in the past."

The ministers of the foreign powers entered the Forbidden City at the main gate, leaving their military escorts outside. At the second gate they entered yellow chairs like those furnished for the princes and secretaries. They walked through the inner courts of the Forbidden City and their cortege retired from the city by the east gate.

BOLD PLAN TO MAKE AWAY WITH FIVE MILLIONS

Two Hundred Thousand Tons of Steel Was the Stake.

FRUSTRATED BY CHICAGO POLICE

United States Steel Company Said to Have Narrowly Escaped Big Loss.

FRENCHMAN IS IN JAIL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—A gigantic steal, amounting to over $5,000,000, with the United States Steel Corporation as the intended victim, is said to have been frustrated by the police of this city by a mere chance. The conspiracy became known only when the pseudo-Count de Neufchateau, alias Charles Jules Francois, was arrested for an alleged failure to pay a board bill.

That the Frenchman was operating on a gigantic scale may be realized when it is known that, according to the story, he had laid plans with a good chance for success, to defraud the American Steel and Wire Company, a constituent part of the larger corporation, out of 200,000 tons of steel.

The first story told by the Frenchman of which the police have knowledge was to the effect that he was a French count, and then that he was the son of a wealthy Belgian contractor. He has been negotiating with the officials of the American Steel and Wire Company for over a month. The local concern, being but a branch of the larger company, had referred to headquarters his proposition to purchase such a large amount of material on the payment of only a fraction of the total price. It is said that the deal was just about to be closed when the arrest of the man came.

In his story the "count" said that the steel was for the use of the French government, which he claimed to be representing on a secret mission to purchase supplies for the army.

The steel was to be used, Francois said, in the manufacture of artillery, the making of armor for battleships and by the engineer corps, in which he claimed to have the rank of brigadier general, for wires and appliances for battlefield operations.

Francois had what he claimed were credentials from the French army. The French consul in Chicago has declared that the seals borne by these letters were not genuine.

A WINDOW GLASS WAR PRESAGED BY MEETING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—About [illegible] men prominent in the window glass trade met in the Waldorf-Astoria today in an all-day conference between the Window Glass Jobbers' association, the American Window Glass Company and the Federation of Co-Operative Window Glass Companies of Muncie, Ind., and as one result [illegible] boxes of glass were sold to the jobbers for about [illegible], which was considered to be a remarkably low figure and to show that there is every reason to believe that a war of prices is impending in the business.

The principal circumstance upon which this belief is founded is that the Independent Glass Company of the United States was not represented at the meeting, the attendance of which comprised about 25, who were there in the interests of the manufacturers, the others being from the jobbers' association.

President W. T. Gray of the jobbers' association, who comes from Syracuse, N. Y., presided over the deliberations, which were marked by numerous adjournments for private conferences. President James A. Chambers of Pittsburgh represented the American company, while the Federation of Companies was represented by Leopold Mambourg.

J. R. Johnson of Hartford City, Ind., member of the western executive committee; E. H. Flood of [illegible], N. J., of the eastern federation, and H. C. Newcomb of Millvale, N. J., and George Jonas of Bridgeton, N. J., members of the eastern executive committee, representing all the window glass plants of the east, were present.

Prices made on the sales were based upon the manufacturers' list of January 1, 1901, and were computed from the quotations which it gave as follows: Single strength, [illegible] per cent; double strength, [illegible] per cent.

Mr. Newcomb said that as a result of the independent companies' absence there probably would be a "glass war," and were it not for this fear he said but [illegible] or [illegible] boxes would have been sold. He said the prospect of such a struggle had already reduced prices, for he added that there was no other reason for it, as the demand for the product is unparalleled.

A WOMAN CHARGES ATTEMPTED CREMATION

Says Her Employer Made an Effort to Burn Her to Death.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Jan. 23.—Because of the strange story told the district attorney last night a warrant was issued for Philip Leib, of Wharton township, for attempted murder. Mrs. Fry, the informant, alleged that Leib had entered into a contract with her to become his housekeeper and if she stayed two years she was to have $300, and if she remained longer she was to have [illegible] a year more, the full $300 to be paid her at once in case of his death. Two copies were made of the contract and Leib's son [illegible] a copy. The woman alleges the son told his father that she must be killed and the old man, being of the same opinion, proceeded to do it.

His first move, she says, was to throw carbon oil over her and set it on fire. Mrs. Frye tore the clothing off and put the fire out after a hard struggle and escaped.

Commissioner Youmans States That He Has Been Personally Assured That James J. Hill Will Be Present at the Meeting in Chicago Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PAUL, MINN., Jan. 23.—The state railroad and warehouse commission today notified the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways that those roads must cancel a recent order abolishing St. Cloud, Fergus Falls and Crookston as terminal points, with the privileges as to rates belonging to terminals, and that unless the suggestion is heeded promptly proper legal procedure will be taken to enforce the order.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 23.—Attorneys of Milton L. Bouden and Sophia B. Chapman filed a petition for an injunction in the state district court today against the Great Northern railway and its directors, to prevent the transfer of its stock to the Northern Securities Company. Bouden holds 100 and Mrs. Chapman 100 shares of Great Northern stock.

Same Attorneys Appear.

The attorneys are the same as those who, in behalf of Peter Power of New York, are seeking in the United States district court to have the retirement of the Northern Pacific preferred stock declared illegal.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Members of the interstate commerce commission arrived here today and began making preparations for investigating the Northwestern railway merger. Rumors to the effect that J. J. Hill and E. H. Harriman would not appear, owing to their absence in the east during the supreme court hearing of the Northern Securities case, were denied by the commissioners.

Hill Will Be Present.

Commissioner J. B. Yeomans stated that the investigation into the result on the rate situation by reason of the consolidation would be begun tomorrow and that he had been assured personally of Mr. Hill's presence.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Jan. 23.—President C. S. Mellen of the Northern Pacific, when asked today if he had been served with a subpoena from the interstate commerce commission to appear before that body tomorrow in Chicago, replied in the affirmative. When asked if he would recognize the summons and attend the session of the commission, Mr. Mellen replied: "Of course I shall attend. The commission has made the summons and I have no right to refuse, even if I had the inclination."

Some of the most important business before the Bricklayers and Masons convention was transacted at yesterday's session. Heretofore the president of the union has been an unsalaried officer, but by an amendment made to the constitution he will in the future receive a salary of $1,600. The salary of the secretary was increased from $1,600 to $1,800.

There was a big fight on the proposition to abolish the official organ, which is maintained by tax upon the members of the union. Edward Moffett, editor of the paper, made a ten-minutes' speech in which he pointed out the advantages obtained by the publication of an official organ. When the matter was put to a vote, the decision to continue the publication was adopted.

The election of officers will be held today, and it is expected that the business of the convention can be concluded on Saturday.

PATRICK SMILED AT STORY OF HIS CRIME

PROSECUTOR GIVES A VIVID PICTURE OF RICE'S DEATH.

Counsel for the Defense Take Occasion to Severely Criticise Assistant District Attorney Osborne's Method of Telling What State May Try to Prove.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The trial of Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer accused of murdering William M. Rice, is on in earnest now. The prosecution's case is being outlined to the jury, the opening for the state, which began yesterday, having been continued this morning. During this preliminary skirmish Patrick's lawyers were on the alert and from time to time interrupted with a rapid-fire of objections, which gave promise that the battle over the evidence would be conducted vigorously in the defendant's behalf. When recess was taken today the outlines of the state's case had not been concluded.

Patrick was rather calm while the jurors were hearing what the state expected to prove. His only show of emotion was an occasional rubbing of his stub of a beard with the palm of his hand.

Patrick Acts the Lawyer.

He glanced at the jurors now and then, and now and then whispered to his counsel. He seemed to be taking a lawyer's interest in the proceedings rather than the interest of a man on trial for his life. He sat for most of the time with chair tilted and rocking back and forth.

The recorder entered the court and took his place on the bench at 11 o'clock. All of Patrick's counsel were on hand, but the assistant district attorney in charge of the prosecution was again late. Patrick was brought in a minute later. There was considerable delay while the court waited for Mr. Osborne. Finally the prosecutor rushed into the court room at 11:15, and the recorder immediately opened court.

Mr. Osborne was terribly in earnest today and his face was set in stern lines, which relaxed at times, only to become more deeply furrowed as he went into the details of the crime with which Patrick is accused.

New Aspect Shown.

While most of the facts that he narrated were familiar to the public, in a general way all were new, not only in the way that he put them, but in many of the details that he gave.

"Patrick's plan shows knowledge of the criminal law," said Mr. Osborne. "It shows that he had studied famous criminal cases like those of Carlyle Harris and Dr. Buchanan. If those poisoners had burned the bodies of their victims they would not have had to bother with those fusty, musty things—coroners. But, with all his knowledge Patrick had failed to find out how long it would take to get the crematory hot. The undertaker said this would take 24 hours. In 24 hours many things may happen, and in this instance the police came in."

Defendant Seemed Amused.

Mr. Osborne's story was replete with horror, without a redeeming feature to render less atrocious the action of the conspirators he described. It was his preliminary plea for the sacrifice of Patrick's life, and but one person in the crowded court room seemed amused, and that was the man whom he seeks to place in the electric chair.

"You must take these facts and construct them and measure them for yourselves," continued Mr. Osborne. "You have the old man, the lawyer Patrick, and the valet, Jones, the money and the motive. You cannot fail to discover the plan. You will build for yourselves, and if you build according to the law of reason and of nature, you will have but one structure; that a crime has been committed and that that crime must be murder."

TRUST COMPANY TO ESTABLISH BRANCHES

Glassport and Duquesne Are to Get New Financial Institutions.

A Pittsburgh financial institution has started to follow the example set by New York bankers and it is expected that before long it will have a whole string of "country" trust companies under its control. The Mercantile Trust Company of Pittsburgh is starting new trust companies.

On Wednesday, February 5, application will be made to the governor of the state for a charter for two corporations, one to be called the Glassport Savings and Trust Company and the other the Duquesne Savings and Trust Company, the first to be located in Portvue borough and the other in Duquesne. The objects stated in the newspaper advertisements are "the insurance of owners of real estate, mortgages and others interested in real estate, from loss by reason of defective titles, liens and encumbrances and for those purposes to have, possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of said act of assembly and supplements thereto."

The names of the incorporators mentioned in the newspaper advertisement are Frank E. Redding, Harvey A. Miller, U. G. Vogan, W. McB. Connell and James K. McBride.

It is said that within a short time there may be a sharp movement in the stocks of the national banks in small towns in Allegheny and adjoining counties. Some of the large national banks here may engage in a similar movement.

CANDIDATE AGAIN.

Mrs. A. Starr-Martin Making Her Sixth Campaign on the Citizens Ticket.

Mrs. A. Starr Martin was nominated last night by the citizens of the Second ward, Bellevue, on the Citizens ticket as a candidate for school director. This is the sixth time she has gone before the public for election to the school board, and this time she believes she will end the race victorious. Heretofore, she has had to canvass the entire borough, but during the past year the borough has been divided into wards, and she will make a canvass in her own ward, the Second.

She included in her platform the manner in which the borough was taken in, on the purchase of the United Presbyterian church property, for school purposes, a nine months' term, and better sanitary conditions.

It was the intention of her husband, David H. Martin, ex-burgess and for many years a councilman, to announce himself for office, but lest his action should be taken to mean that the family wished to run the affairs of the borough he decided not to let his name go before the meeting. He will devote his time to the candidacy of his wife.

W. B. Kirker was chairman of the meeting. A full ward ticket was named as follows: Council, three years, Capt. W. B. Rodgers; two years, T. Lee Clark; one year, Stephen Newburn; school director, two to elect, John Proven, Sr., George Irwin and Mrs. A. Starr-Martin; judge of elections, R. H. Barr; inspector, R. A. Cameron and Jacob Herman; constable, William Jammes; auditor, William A. Thompson.

Honored By His Friends.

City Detective George Cole was tendered a reception last night at his home, No. 3097 Smallman street, by his colored friends in the Twelfth ward, in honor of his recent promotion to the bureau of detectives. There was a large gathering at his home, and he was presented with a handsome silver water pitcher as a token of their esteem. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Charles Waters and it was received by the Rev. E. W. Jones, for the detective.

Abner McKinley Wants His Fee.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 23.—Abner McKinley, brother of the late President McKinley, has asked the United States circuit court for a fee of $6,000 for services alleged to have been rendered in connection with the case of Joshua Harmon et al. against the Detroit and Lima Northern Railway Company.

PRESIDENT'S WIDOW DESIRES A PENSION

MRS. HARRISON EXPECTS THE USUAL RECOGNITION BY CONGRESS.

Denies That She Has a Large Income. Wants to Give Her Daughter the Advantages She Would Have Had If Her Father Had Lived.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 23.—Friends of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, widow of ex-President Harrison, have had their attention called to statements published in several papers to the effect that she had asked those in charge of the movement to secure for her a pension not to present the bill to congress.

This is incorrect, as stated by them. They say Mrs. Harrison has at no time made any objection to the presentation of such a bill, and still believes the matter can with propriety be presented to congress, inasmuch as the surviving widows of other ex-Presidents have been recipients of the same official recognition by congress. Widows of Presidents Tyler, Polk, Garfield and Grant were given pensions; Mrs. William Henry Harrison was voted $25,000 by congress, which was at that time the amount of the president's salary, and Mrs. McKinley will receive a pension, the bill having been recently reported favorably. Mrs. Harrison was seen at her home here tonight and was asked if she requested that the bill not be presented. She said:

"No, I have made no such request at any time. I have supposed that congress would accord the same recognition of ex-President Harrison's services by granting his widow a pension as has been granted to those of other presidents. My desire to give my daughter the same advantages she would have enjoyed had her father lived is my chief thought in the matter."

Mrs. Harrison was asked if it were true, as has been published, that she is now enjoying an income of $10,000 a year. She expressed surprise that such a statement should have been published, saying her income was nothing approaching that amount.

The movement for the presentation of a pension bill for Mrs. Harrison is in the hands of Senator Fairbanks, and Mrs. Harrison's intimate friends here will urge that congress be given the opportunity to take action on the bill.

INCREASE IN VALUATION.

Assessors' Report Will Show That Pittsburgh Property Has Added $6,500,000 to Its Value.

The city assessors will present to councils next Monday their report of the taxable valuations of the city, upon which the appropriations and tax levy for 1902 will be based. An increase of about $8,500,000 over last year is estimated.

The increase is largely from new buildings erected during 1901. This addition to the property will run the total valuation of taxable property of the city up to about $306,500,000. The valuations for 1901 aggregated a little over $298,000,000.

Councils will authorize the finance committee to prepare the appropriation ordinance for 1902 Monday. Anthony F. Keating, the clerk of the central police station and the accepted statistician of the city, is already at work on the appropriations for the coming fiscal year, which begins the first of February.

The appropriation ordinance for 1902 will be prepared to balance with a 15-mill tax levy. With the tax levy fixed in advance and the amount of taxable property known, the work of the city financiers will consist merely in adding together enough appropriations to exhaust the estimated revenues. Special care will be taken to prevent any possible surplus at the end of the year.

Director McCandless, of the department of public works, and Recorder Brown yesterday let to Allis-Chalmers & Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., a contract for two pumping engines for the Brilliant station and one for the Herron Hill station, aggregating $224,400. One of the engines purchased has a capacity of 6,000,000 gallons daily, and the other two each a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons daily.

A contract was also let to C. M. Driver for the removal of the old South Tenth street bridge at $8,773 37.

BAR IRON GOES UP.

Prices Went Up $2 a Ton Yesterday and May Go Higher.

The Western Bar Iron association will hold a meeting in Pittsburgh within the next two days, and it is likely that quotations will be advanced considerably. Prices went up $2 a ton yesterday and the increase to be made by the association may be higher still.

From the advance granted the puddlers recently it was seen that bar iron had been selling at $1 50 a ton for 100 pounds for the past two months. The Republic Iron and Steel Company withdrew from the market yesterday, refusing to furnish bar iron at the market quotations, and the American Sheet Steel Company quoted a price of $1 60 per hundred pounds, an increase of $2 a ton.

At this rate the wages of puddlers at the next bi-monthly adjustment of wages will be raised to $6 a ton. The market has been unusually firm for some time and higher quotations were expected.

CHILPANCINGO DESERTED.

Another Earthquake Shock Startles the City—614 Houses Have Already Been Destroyed.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23.—Another slight earthquake shock shook Chilpancingo yesterday afternoon and terrified the people, but no harm was done.

Official data show that 614 houses, not including the government buildings, were destroyed in the first and second earthquakes. The people are still panic stricken and fear additional shocks. They are leaving homes here to establish themselves in other towns and cities.

Free Lunch in Church.

CANTON, O., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—The Rev. F. C. Nau of the First Reformed church, this city, has successfully inaugurated an innovation in his work by making a free lunch a regular feature of the meetings of the Young Men's congress, recently organized in that congregation. Instead of the usual saloon accompaniment to free food stuffs, excellent hot coffee is served as a beverage.

FOUND MURDERED IN BATH HOUSE

RICH MAN FOUND DEAD IN HIS OWN ESTABLISHMENT.

Negro Janitor, Arrested for the Crime, Tells a Startling Story to the Police, Who Partially Corroborate Him—Further Developments Are Expected.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23.—A. Dean Cooper, treasurer of the Graham Paper Company, was assaulted shortly after midnight in a Turkish bath establishment frequented by wealthy men. He was removed to his home and died about 10 o'clock today. The police are proceeding upon the theory of robbery, with William A. Strothers, the colored bath house attendant, under arrest on suspicion. A diamond stud worth $1,000 and a diamond ring valued at $1,200, which had been worn by Cooper, were found hidden in the rafters of the cellar, as was also a ten-pound sledge hammer, covered with blood, with which the victim's skull had been crushed.

Mrs. Florence Banks and Josie Houseton, both colored, who visited Strothers shortly before the assault, have also been arrested. Strothers maintains his innocence. He says two women and a man called to see Cooper and were with him in the cooling room when he went into the cellar to attend the furnace, and that upon his return he found Cooper unconscious and the strangers gone.

Mr. Cooper was the owner of the bath house where the assault was committed, but it was not managed in his name. Mr. Cooper, who was interested in various lines of business, was considered one of the wealthiest men in St. Louis.

Developments in connection with the murder as the day progressed were sensational in the extreme. It became known that Strothers was in need of money, $300 or more, to reclaim his home from mortgage sale. Strothers, however, met this with the statement that Mr. Cooper, whom he had known and served for a long time, had promised to save his home for him. He also claims that Mr. Cooper had promised him that in the event of the sale of the bath house he, Strothers, should be taken care of, either by being retained in his position or by being given another.

Questioned as to why Mr. Cooper should thus make provision for him, the negro told a startlingly sensational story of the alleged true character of the place of which he had been the trusted custodian and the story was in some degree corroborated by a statement from the police that they had been making secret investigations and were going to raid and close up the place.

Strothers stoutly maintains his innocence, but the police are entirely confident that they have the right man in custody.

DRANK WOOD ALCOHOL.

Josephine Reigner Attempted Suicide When Reproved by Her Father.

Josephine Reigner, aged 16, a daughter of Frank Reigner of No. 6130 Butler street, attempted to commit suicide yesterday evening by drinking from a bottle containing wood alcohol, and is now lying in a precarious condition at her home.

She is of an exceptionally sensitive disposition and yesterday, while she was engaged in amusing her younger brother and sister, her father entered the room and reproved her for not being at her place in the little store he conducts in the front of his home.

She did not reply, but entered the store, where she procured a bottle of wood alcohol, used for filling a cigar lighter, and then went up stairs.

A few minutes later her mother was called to Josephine's room by the younger sister, and found her lying on the bed frothing at the mouth. She was unconscious and her body stiff and almost cold. Dr. H. D. Fulton of No. 5149 Butler street, was called and, after hard work, effected some improvement in the girl's condition. Josephine is a remarkably pretty girl and added considerable to her father's store trade.

Mr. Warren is succeeded by Frank H. Taylor, who, since 1897, has been fourth vice president. Mr. Taylor is succeeded by L. A. Osborne, who heretofore has been manager of the works. The affairs of the company were reported to be in the best condition.

NAME OF BIDDER IS MADE PUBLIC BY THE AGENT

The American Adjustment Association Wants the Western Maryland.

OTHER PROJECTS READY

Samuel MacLean, the Treasurer, Hints at Several Other Schemes the Company May Put Through. Wabash Is Pushing Work.

Samuel MacLean of this city and New York, whose bid for the Western Maryland railroad was announced in yesterday's Gazette, announces that this bid is made for the "American Adjustment Association" of New York, which association in turn represents the real persons attempting to obtain control of the road.

This company, Mr. MacLean says, was formed in New York in 1899 with a capital of $10,000,000. Its president is Henry Parsons, an attorney, and its first vice president is the Hon. Samuel M. Porter. Mr. MacLean is treasurer.

O. BROSTEDT.
District Passenger Agent Great Northern Railroad.

Without speaking definitely, Mr. MacLean hints at other Pittsburgh railroad projects with which the bid for the Western Maryland may be connected. A branch of the association of which he is treasurer is about to be established here. He says also that application has been made for a Pennsylvania charter for "The Alliance Realty, Bonding and Fideitty Company," with a working capital of $1,000,000 and authority to increase that capital to $5,000,000. The bid for the Western Maryland, the new railroad projects hinted at and the incorporation of the new company seem to be associated.

Mr. MacLean received a letter from Mayor Thomas G. Hayes of Baltimore yesterday saying that his bid would be considered with the others. The interests of the "American Adjustment Association," the bidder, are being looked after at Baltimore by a prominent Baltimore man of affairs, Mr. McLean says.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—There is every reason to believe that before any deal for the control of the Western Maryland is closed there will be as warm a contest as any railroad ever excited. The last move is the introduction of a bill before the Maryland legislature calling for a vote of the people before the road is sold. Mayor Hayes is said to discountenance this measure. It has been suggested that an agreement with the Wabash be made by the city of Baltimore by which that city retains control of the road, but allows it to be used as a seaboard connection. This was the agreement made with the old South Penn project that the Pennsylvania finally killed. It is feared that if the city parted with its control some deal like that which killed the South Penn would place the Western Maryland in the Pennsylvania's hands, the great terror of Baltimore's business men.

Improving Main Line.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Surveys are nearing completion for improvements on the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio to cost $2,000,000. One of these will avoid the worst east-bound grade between Cumberland and Baltimore. A new line has been run from the main line east of Cherry Run to a point about half way between North Mountain and this town. There the main track is again reached. The line will be of single track and is intended exclusively for east-bound freight trains. The present line will be used for west-bound freight and all passenger trains. Work will soon be started also on another line from a point two miles west of Martinsburg to Harpers Ferry, by way of Shepherdstown, cutting out Martinsburg. This line is to be used for freight trains only, both east and west-bound.

J. W. Midgley's Number 7.

J. W. Midgley, formerly chairman of the western freight committee, has just issued his seventh circular letter on the subject of per diem vs. mileage charges for the interchange of freight cars. This letter studies the attempts already made to introduce per diem systems of charging. The only fair trial, it says, was made by the Union Pacific and the Burlington between those two systems from 1874 to 1878. It was found far more productive of good car service than the mileage plan. It was finally abandoned for reasons not now effective. Mr. Midgley says there are five remedies for the present pool car service, classified as follows: Straight per diem, mixed mileage and per diem, demurrage and car service associations, adjustable mileage and per diem, or the Daly plan and equipment companies or car pools.

Wabash Comes Nearer Daily.

During all the bad weather of the past few weeks the work on the Wabash extension to Pittsburgh has never ceased. Great camps of the men, fully 3,000 in number, are strung out over a line 50 miles long, reaching from the south of Pittsburgh to the Ohio river near Mingo Junction. In the two great tunnels of the line, those at Mt. Washington and in Greentree borough, satisfactory progress is being made. The work on these tunnels must be done by October 1 next to fill the contracts. There seems to be little doubt that the contract will be carried out unless something now entirely unforeseen happens.

To Make One Engine Every Day.

Improvements sufficient to make the capacity of the Pittsburgh plant of the American Locomotive Company one complete locomotive a day are now being planned. President S. R. Callaway, of the American Locomotive Company, has been in the city this week looking over the local plant in Beaver avenue, Allegheny. Its rank is third in the eight companies belonging to the combine, which was formed only a few months ago.

PAPERS MAY BE FILED BY MACHINE

CITIZENS' PARTY ON THE WATCH FOR ORGANIZATION TRICKERY.

It Has Been Decided That the Ratification Meeting Will Be Held in Old City Hall February 1—Wards Abandoned by the Machine.

There are indications that the machine intends to file nomination papers for alleged Citizens party candidates in each ward in the city. This announcement was made last evening by Charles S. Crawford, chairman of the committee of 25 of the Citizens party. He is prepared to successfully battle a movement of this kind.

The committee has experienced much difficulty in learning from the county commissioners just what was required in the nomination papers. From time to time, according to Mr. Crawford, there have been inklings that the machine intended to attempt a capture of the party appellation of the anti-machine forces. If these papers are filed the commissioners will no doubt recognize those bearing the machine stamp. Several have already appeared.

The Citizens expect to have to go into court and prove their right to the name. This will not be difficult, for early in the month they filed an affidavit in common pleas court No. 2 setting forth that they had the exclusive use of the appellation.

The nomination papers for John B. Larkin and the various ward tickets are about ready for filing. They have been so carefully scrutinized that it is difficult to see how any flaws can be found in them.

Meeting in Old City Hall.

The Citizens committee last night decided that the ratification meeting will be held in Old City hall Saturday evening, February 1. It will probably be presided over by one of the best-known manufacturers of the city. The speeches will be made by four men who are well known in business and professional circles in the city.

The committee of 25 will indorse the candidacy of Jacob Soffel, the Republican candidate for councilman in the Thirty-second ward. The indorsement will extend to the entire ward ticket.

The committee has not decided whether it will indorse the candidacy of William McKelvey for common councilman in the Eighth ward. It is quite probable that he will be put on the ticket. There appears to be little opposition to him from the citizens of the ward. It is more difficult to secure harmony on the aldermanship. John Cahill has the Democratic nomination for a re-election, and his friends want the Citizens' party to indorse him.

Delinquent Tax Collector S. P. Conner is due to turn over the first half of the receipts for the Democrats and citizens tomorrow. The balance are to be delivered Monday. There has been no intimation as to whether he has rejected any of the orders. It was reported yesterday that he had declined to fill some of the orders put in by private individuals, because their names were not on the delinquent books. Under the terms of the tax receipt conference held last week, it was agreed that where names did not appear on the books of Conner's office he was to give an order to the commissioner to put the name on the treasurer's books, if the elector had been registered in December.

Bad Faith Is Alleged.

It is now claimed that Conner has not kept this agreement.

James M. Clark, the Flinn machine boss of the Twenty-first ward, has had to swap horses in mid stream again. Last night he had a meeting of his rump ward organization. George W. Hunter, who a few days ago accepted a nomination on Clark's ticket for common councilman, has had time to learn the sentiment of the ward. He withdrew and shoved the empty honor on to Attorney Frank McCance.

Not in many years has there been such an outpouring of the better element of the South Side as was seen in Turner hall, South Thirteenth street, last night. Dr. J. M. Riggs was chairman, and after a few brief remarks introduced James Mattern, Esq.

"I am glad to see this great assemblage of the citizens of the South Side," Mr. Mattern said. "It has a great significance. It means that you people have finally awakened to the merits of the Flinn machine. You know it by experience and what I could say would add but little to your knowledge of this infamous government as personified in Flinn."

Mr. Mattern was followed by Major A. M. Brown, who in a vigorous speech laid bare the machinations of the ringsters, not excepting the man who said he was not bribed.

"Keeling & Ridge," he said among other things, "after signing an agreement and beginning part of the work on the Highland park reservoir, stopped suddenly, and said they could not do it for the sum agreed upon. During my administration we insisted that they live up to the contract and would have made them do so or compelled the Mercantile Trust Company to surrender its pledge. Now the contract has been thrown to the winds, the city is the loser and Stone's trust is freed from its compact to surrender bail."

Major Brown was followed by Attorney W. J. Brennen, who delivered the most caustic speech of the evening.

Charles A. O'Brien was the last speaker. He was in his usual happy mood and was cordially greeted.

Sweeney Was Absent.

Representative John J. Sweeney failed to answer to his name in court yesterday when called to testify in the proceedings brought to purge the registry list of the First district of the Fourth ward. If he is not present today the court may be requested to send for him.

Judges J. M. Kennedy and J. A. Evans continued hearing testimony in the petition to have 140 names striken from the list. Many witnesses testified to inaccuracies in the registration.

Before Judge R. S. Frazer of common pleas court No. 2 a hearing was begun yesterday in the petition filed by James Hamilton to have the county commissioners throw out the nomination papers of P. J. Barry for select council, J. J. Hughes for common council and minor ward candidates.

Four wards of Pittsburgh are giving the machine much annoyance. They are the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth. The success of the Citizens party in these municipal divisions may do much to disrupt the old organization.

There is practically no attempt on the part of the Magee men to deny that Senator Flinn is not playing fair in the Fourteenth ward. His desire for personal revenge on James J. Booth has done much toward disorganizing the machine forces.

Fight in the Fifteenth.

The Fifteenth ward does not have a large voting population, but it is the home of John Upperman, whom Flinn needs in select council. The loss of Upperman would be as severe a blow to the machine as was the defeat Kirk Q. Bigham, who represents the Thirty-second in common. Ex Fire Chief William Coates is in charge of the Citizens party fight. It is his greatest desire to whip the Leslies.

The Nineteenth is the home ward of Senator Flinn. The opposition is so strongly entrenched that the chance of machine success is extremely uncertain. To suffer defeat in his own ward would be humiliating, and for that reason the senator will do everything possible to turn the tide.

The machine practically conceeds the Twentieth and Twenty-first. The only hope of success in the Twentieth was in getting a Democratic ticket in the field. This machine plan was thwarted. To suffer defeat in the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first wards would mean the loss of the campaign to the mochine.

Nineteenth Ward Republicans Meet.

A well-attended meeting of the Republicans of the Nineteenth ward was held in the Verner hall, Mathilda street, last evening, which was presided over by William H. Melaney. William M. Benham, Arch Mackrell and Walter E. Billows spoke.

WHAT A SAMPLE BOTTLE OF SWAMP-ROOT DID.

To Prove what the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, will do for YOU, Every Reader of "The Gazette" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

W. F. Lohnes, a prominent business man of Sprinfield, Ohio, writes the following strong indorsement of the great kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, to the Editor of the Springfield, Ohio, Republic:

Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 21st, 1901.

"Having heard that you could procure a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, I wrote to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and it was promptly sent. I was so pleased after trying the sample bottle that I sent to the drug store and procured a supply. I have used Swamp-Root regularly for some time, and consider it unsurpassed as a remedy for torpid liver, loss of appetite and general derangement of the digestive functions. I think my trouble was due to too close confinement in my business. I can recommend it highly for all liver and kidney complaints. I am not in the habit of indorsing any medicine, but in this case I cannot speak too much in praise of what Swamp-Root has done for me."

Mrs. McKinley's Wishes Ignored---Fought to Death on Horseback

COMPANY DISREGARDS MRS. M'KINLEY'S WISHES

NAMING CANTON HOTEL

Owners of the Property Persist in Using Late President's Name.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CANTON, O., Jan. 23.—Two Canton hotel buildings, side by side, are fighting over the name "Hotel McKinley." The Saxton Hotel Company, in which the late president was a stockholder, gave up the name because Mrs. McKinley objected to its use. Now since the promoters of the new Hurford house have announced that they will name the hotel "McKinley" the Saxton managers declare they will get Mrs. McKinley's consent to the use of the name and enjoin the promoters of the newer project from using it.

The announcement made a day or two ago by the promoters of the new hostelry on the Hurford property that they had decided to name the new building Hotel McKinley was astonishing information to the Saxton hotel people. The matter came to the ears of Mrs. McKinley, and she commissioned Attorney Austin Lynch to call upon the projectors and request them to change the name of the hotel for the reason that Mr. McKinley would not permit the other company to use his name.

Dr. A. F. Brant, one of the Hurford house syndicate, said tonight that they had received a communication signifying Mrs. McKinley's disapproval of the name. He said that it was the intention of the builders to use the name. The syndicate proposes to erect a $150,000 structure fronting on West Tuscarawas, Court and West Fifth streets.

TOOK POSSESSION OF TRAIN.

West Virginia Man Arrested for Shooting in a Car.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—James Kirkpatrick, a saloonkeeper of Wetzel county, who took possession of a short line train at Wallace last night and it is alleged, drove the passengers, conductor and brakeman off at the point of a pistol, was arrested here tonight.

He made a terrible resistance and a posse of special deputies was necessary to take him to jail. On the train, it is said, he shot at several passengers, but no one was hurt.

COKE PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Jan. 23.—The Courier will say tomorrow: Coke production in the Connellsville region was over 1,000 tons better last week than the week before. There is also a notable improvement in the car supply. Few of the plants, however, are making better than five days a week. While the improved conditions have not yet affected the west much, they are felt in the Pittsburgh district and in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, where the furnaces are running on stocks kept up to the capacity of consumption from day to day, keeping the stacks in constant operation. The detailed report of the operation and output of the Connellsville region for the week ending Saturday, January 18, shows a total of 21,124 ovens, of which 20,263 were active and 861 were idle. Compared with the list of the previous week this was a decrease of 454 ovens in the total number of the region. The 400-oven plant of the Cambria Steel Company at Morrell has been dropped from the list as abandoned and also 51 ovens at Wheeler of the same company. The Acme of the Acme Coke Company is reported with 57 ovens instead of 60, as in the past. The only change last week affecting the production of the region was the firing of 25 ovens at Stewart of the Stewart Iron Company and the dropping of 12 ovens that had been in blast at Morrell. The estimate of production was 207,420 tons, compared with 206,545 tons the previous week.

Shipments for the week aggregated 11,277 cars distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 3,440 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,652 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,185 cars. This was an increase of 96 cars compared with the shipments of the previous week.

TUNNEL EXPERTS CHOSEN.

They Will Take Charge of Plans for Boring Under New York.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—The following expert engineers have been selected by President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, to supervise plans for the New York tunnel scheme before the actual work of construction begins: Col. Charles W. Raymond, chairman; Charles M. Jacobs, Alfred Noble, Gustav Lindenthal and W. H. Brown.

Charles H. Jacobs has been appointed chief engineer in charge of the construction of the North river section of the tunnel, and Alfred Noble chief engineer of the East river section. All those named have attained prominence in the engineering profession, and are looked upon as experts in certain branches.

FATAL DUEL FOUGHT WITH PISTOLS ON HORSEBACK

PROMINENT MAN KILLED

West Virginia Enemies Met on a Highway and Began Shooting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Jan. 23.—Col. Gilbert Bentley, a wealthy timberman, was killed today by Riley Ramey, who at once surrendered to the authorities. Both are prominent. The fatal meeting occurred on the public highway, near Elkhorn City on the Big Sandy. The men met on horseback and both drew revolvers. Bentley was struck in the left breast by the first shot and fell from his horse.

They had been enemies for two years as a result of a shooting affray between their sons, in which neither of the sons were seriously injured.

Col. Bentley was an extensive lumber man. Ramey claims that the first bullet from Bentley's revolver pierced his clothing.

Miners' Strike Settled.

SALEM, O., Jan. 23.—The differences that have existed between the coal miners and operators in the Northern Columbiana district for the past eight months and which has kept 800 men idle, were settled today, and the men will go to work tomorrow.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Andrew Buckmer, a Slavish workman at Mingo Junction mills, had nearly $2,000 stolen yesterday. He kept the money in a bed tick.

TITUSVILLE, PA.—At a meeting of the trustees of the Universalist church held last night, a call was extended to the Rev. F. F. Buckner of Bristol, N. Y.

CANTON, O.—Burglars entered the grocery of Zeiter & Smith last night, knocked the knob off the fireproof safe, and picked the lock. About $60 in cash and $200 in small checks were secured.

DEMOCRATS ON TRIAL FOR SELLING LIQUOR

A Claim That Bryan Was Invited to Altoona to Cover Up Guilt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Jan. 23.—F. J. Meintel, W. C. Myton, J. E. Shute, E. M. Beale and A. F. Aultz, officers of the Blair County Democratic association, were placed on trial in court today on the charge of selling liquor in their club rooms at Altoona. The Rev. R. A. Hutchinson, president of the Anti-Saloon league, is the prosecutor. The evidence for the state is furnished by W. R. Harp and Benjamin Barber, two Baltimore Bible house salesmen, who became members of the association for the purpose of detecting violations of the law.

Judge Bell charged the jury that if the association was a bona fide political club and had not for its principal object the sale of liquor, its officers could not be convicted. The defense claimed that the association was a leading political club of the state and had only recently entertained Bryan, Creasy and other well-known Democrats in a reception at Altoona.

H. A. Davis, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league, argued that "when this association was prosecuted, Mr. Bryan was brought to Altoona as an afterthought. He was brought to give tone to this club. I am sure if he were here today he would condemn the whole infernal business."

The case will go to a jury tomorrow.

RATHER FIGHT THAN EAT.

Prisoner Injured an Officer Who Tried to Make Him Take Food.

CLEARFIELD, PA., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Flanagan today has a badly sprained ankle and other bruises which are the result of a desperate young colored bootblack in the lockup refusing to eat or drink for two days.

When the chief tried to make him eat he fought savagely. It required three men to help Flanagan get the boy into his cell. County commissioners refuse to do anything, saying they prefer to turn him loose, or buy him a ticket for Pittsburgh.

New Bank for Ebensburg.

EBENSBURG, PA., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—The Second National bank of Ebensburg is the name of a new institution which is being organized by a number of prominent business men. The bank will start business with a capital stock of $100,000, and R. S. Scanlan will be cashier. John Lloyd, a wealthy merchant, will be president; Judge F. J. O'Connor, P. J. Little, A. J. Darragh, C. P. Pannebaker of Ebensburg, and Joseph Benguile of Gallitzin will be directors.

GIBRALTAR, Jan. 23.—The imperial German yacht Hohenzollern arrived here today. Admiral Count von Baudissin, her commander, landed. He was saluted by a land battery, visited the governor, and later re-embarked, when the Hohenzollern proceeded on her journey to New York.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—The invitation of the University club to Prince Henry to dinner, which was forwarded through John B. Jackson, secretary of the American embassy at Berlin, has been referred by the prince to Dr. von Holleben, the German ambassador at Washington, as have all other invitations received direct. It is understood that Prince Henry would be pleased to dine with the University club after his western excursion.

Prince Henry today selected at the court jeweler's about 50 presents for Americans with whom he will come specially in contact during his visit to the United States. Official secrecy is maintained as to what the emperor and Prince Henry will present to the president, Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans and Miss Alice Roosevelt, though it is well known that his majesty will send Miss Roosevelt a jeweled bracelet, and Prince Henry will probably offer the president a fine hunting gun.

America May Get Borghese Gallery.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Lady Stanley, wife of Sir Henry M. Stanley, asserts that she has high authority for saying that the Italian legal difficulties have been overcome, and that negotiations are well advanced for the transfer of the Borghese gallery to the United States. She implores the civilized world to join in averting such a catastrophe.

Decoration for Marconi.

ROME, Jan. 23.—King Victor Emmanuel has conferred the order of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus upon William Marconi.

BOY MANGLED BY MAD DOG.

The Animal Also Bit Several Cows and Was Shot.

GREENVILLE, PA., Jan. 23.—(Special.) Just as the children were going home from school a dog, frothing at the mouth, appeared on the streets of Sheakleyville, 10 miles east of here, and attacked the 10-year-old son of William Coutler. The boy was knocked down and before the dog could be driven away it had mangled his hands and feet.

The dog then ran to the barn of Dr. J. B. Backup and bit a Jersey cow. Cows belonging to John Dight and Jackson Stewart were also bitten. The dog was shot in the barn of Wash Jones. Coutler will be taken to a hospital for treatment.

Bonaparte to Judge for U. of P.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—A grand nephew of Napoleon Bonaparte probably will be one of the judges at the intercollegiate debate between the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Michigan, to be held at the Academy of Music March 7. Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore has been invited to serve as Pennsylvania's representative on the board of judges, and it is believed he will accept.

BOYCOTT WAR ON YANKEE COMBINE

British Tobacco Manufacturers Unite to Drive Out American Goods.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The American Tobacco Company's designs upon the British market, and incidentally its own position in trade in the United States, received a severe shock today by the closing of a deal which has been negotiated by George P. Butler, a well-known American tobacco man and brother of William P. Butler, president of the Universal Tobacco Company of America. As a result of this deal the position of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Great Britain and Ireland, which comprises about 13 big firms, and which will be floated early in February, is already strengthened.

I saw Mr. Butler at the Carlton hotel tonight. He has acquired a large interest in the Henry Clay-Bock Company and in the Havana Companies, Limited. The main policy to be adopted by the British manufacturers' amalgamation in the tobacco war against the American combine is a trade boycott on a colossal scale of all tobacco goods manufactured by Mr. Duke's companies.

The shops of Salmon Gluckstein have already been captured. For due consideration those conducting that business will not sell so much as a penny packet of the Duke goods. That still leaves 20,000 tobacco retailers to be brought over to adhesion to the Imperial Company's plan. Many will follow Mr. Gluckstein, as all retailers who desire to get the bonus which the Imperial Company has promised to give will have to fall in with the Imperial Company's conditions and will be banning Mr. Duke's goods from their shops.

OPPOSED TO M'KINLEY FUND.

One Akron Minister Declines to Hold Memorial Services.

AKRON, O., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—The churches of Akron will hold McKinley memorial services next Sunday and a voluntary collection for the memorial fund will be taken up in the churches, with one exception.

The Rev. W. D. Van Voorhis says he does not expect to observe McKinley day in his church, as he does not believe the church was instituted for purposes other than preaching the gospel, and that his congregation cannot afford to contribute to the fund. He says it is sufficient to ask the members of his congregation to give liberally to missions and charity.

ENGLISH WILL RIVAL OUR STEEL COMBINE

Thirty Manufacturers Unite to Face the American Business Invasion.

THE CAPITAL $100,000,000

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Some 30 steel manufacturers of Great Britain have entered the ring against the American steel combine and a fierce fight is impending. The capital of the English combine is said to be $100,000,000.

To a representative of the Daily Express today a gentleman who is said to be one of high authority in the English steel trade, said:

"The English steel trade is about to make a move which will surely shatter the American ideas. When the scheme is matured it will comprise the cream of the iron works in this country, and it will have possession of enough of the European mines and a sufficient fleet of steamers to bring iron ore in abundance to England. The combination also will have at command a sufficient number of coal mines, together with modernized iron works, to handle the trade to such an advantage as to resist the threatened American invasion."

One More Smallpox Case—James Hancock, colored, of Roanoke, Va., was removed to the Municipal hospital last night suffering from smallpox. He said that he came to this city yesterday morning over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. He claims that he left the train at Soho, where he was taken ill. He was directed to the Public Safety building by a police officer. Upon his arrival it was discovered that he had a bad case and was immediately taken to the hospital.

Took Fire to Engine House—Considerable excitement was raised on a Central avenue car at Center avenue and Kirkpatrick street last night by the flooring of the car catching fire from the electric heater. The car crew and passengers tried to extinguish the flames without success, and the burning car was run as far as No. 5 engine house, several squares distant, where the firemen with the assistance of a Babcock succeeded in putting out the fire.

Struck by a Crane—Constantine Hoffman, 40 years old, a laborer, of No. 625 Copeland street, Braddock, died in the emergency hospital at the Edgar Thomson steel works yesterday of injuries received by being struck by a crane buggy in the mill. His body was crushed and he died a few hours after he was injured.

Shot at Bartender—Capt. Fred Will and Lieut. Garrett Crossan arrested E. Ambresin, an Italian living in Thirteenth street near Penn avenue, yesterday on a charge of being a suspicious person. It is alleged that Ambresin shot twice at J. Lewis, a bartender at 1144 Penn avenue, Sunday night at Twelfth street and Penn avenue, one of the bullets going through a valuable plate glass window in the store of N. Gallinger, at that corner. The cause for the shooting is not known.

An Alleged Church Fight—There is said to be a warm fight in the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Wilkinsburg. It is due to an alleged refusal of Dr. Thomas Parry, the pastor, to allow the church auditorium to be used for a public service in honor of the late President McKinley. He is said to give as his reason the fact that Wilkinsburg citizens are beginning to take advantage of the generosity of the church, and want to use it for public meetings all the time.

To Have Municipal Building—Homestead will probably build a municipal building soon. At present the borough lockup, which only contains three small cells, is located on a back street far from the business section. The citizens claim that they are entitled to a new building, as there is more tax paid in Homestead than in Braddock, which has one of the finest municipal buildings in the county. Candidates for council at the coming election have pledged themselves to vote for the building.

Inquiries About Connors—Superintendent of Police John McAleese yesterday received a letter from Robert J. Robinson of Schuylerville, Saratoga county, N. Y., making inquiries concerning the death of Patrick Connors, who died at Mercy hospital last Sunday, and also where and with whom he boarded prior to his being sent to the hospital. He leaves a wife and sister in Schuylerville. They wish to have his effects sent to them, as they are too poor to come for them. Robinson also asks for the addresses of John Hanley and William Leach, who are supposed to reside in Pittsburgh.

Assaulted a Young Woman—Miss Nettie Maley, a well-known young woman of Fifth avenue, Carnegie, was assaulted by an unknown negro at Carnegie late Wednesday evening. Miss Maley was returning to her home at the time and was waiting at the Panhandle railroad crossing at Chartiers street for a train to pass. The negro approached from the rear and attempted to knock her down. Miss Maley struggled with her assailant and began to scream. The negro noticed two men approaching up Chartiers street and took to his heels. The men gave chase to the negro, but he escaped up the railroad track.

Lost in McKees Rocks—James Londi of Lacock street, Allegheny, reported to Chief of Police Samuel Davis of McKees Rocks last evening that his son Hugh Londi, aged 14 years, was lost somewhere in McKees Rocks. The father stated that he had accompanied the boy to that place in the morning, in quest of work, and that he had succeeded in getting him work in the chain works. When evening came the boy failed to put in an appearance at home. The father and mother both went to the Rocks in search of their son. The mother was almost frantic. Up until a late hour they had found no trace of him.

Eight-Hour Day, Higher Wages—The executive committee of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers held a meeting here yesterday. The committee did not get through with its work and will continue in session today. The committee is considering the answer of the American Bridge Company to the demands for an advance in wages, the demand being for 50 cents an hour for an eight-hour day. The company expressed itself as willing to pay the wages asked to the men employed on work that requires them to leave their homes and travel about, but thought that those employed in inside work, especially on buildings in their home towns, should not get the wages asked.

EX-MILLIONAIRE DEAD.

The Body of W. C. Johnson Was Found in a Small Wyoming Town.

CHEYENNE, WYO., Jan. 23.—The body of W. C. Johnson was found today in the city water works reservoir at Douglas, Wyo. Johnson disappeared several days ago, and it is believed that he committed suicide while temporarily insane.

Johnson formerly lived in Florida, where he owned immense phosphate mines, and was at one time worth several million dollars.

Bankers Protest Against Tax.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—A delegation of New York and Chicago bankers today had a conference with Commissioner Yerkes of the internal revenue bureau and requested him to suspend the operation of his ruling that undivided bank profits should be taxed the same as other bank surplus. It was represented that the questions involved are now before the court for determination.

In Memorium.

January 23, 1902.

The board of directors of the Allegheny National bank, in token of their profound sorrow at the death of their president, John Caldwell, Jr., on Friday, January 17, 1902, who has been a stockholder in this bank since its organization in 1857, wish to put on record their appreciation of his faithful and attentive services as a director for 33 years and as president for 12 years, during which time his every thought and action was for the best interest of the bank, and also to bear witness to his kindness of heart, his unselfishness, his cheerfulness and amiability and his ever-kindly consideration for the feelings of others.

We tender our earnest and sincere condolence to his family and order this minute to be entered on the records of the bank and a copy sent to the bereaved widow to show our regret and grateful remembrance of our departed friend and associate. By order of the board.

W. MONTGOMERY, Secretary.

Elkin's Prospects.

In predicting once more that if Elkin is nominated he will be elected "by Pennsylvania's usual big Republican majority," the Indiana Times ignores the fact that the present governor was elected in spite of the circumstance that there was a majority of more than 19,000 against him. The combined vote for George A. Jenks, Democrat, and Silas C. Swallow was 15,025 in excess of the vote for Stone, and the Social Labor candidate had 4,278 votes to add to this. The "usual big Republican majority" does not appear here. Stone's unpopularity is shown in the figures, and it has been much added to by his acts as governor. Mr. Elkin's relations with Stone are such that he has not escaped the resentment felt for the governor. In view of this there is a widespread fear that he cannot make even so good a showing as Stone did, and that should the opposition unite against him instead of scattering its strength as in 1898, there would be trouble all along the line. The Republican party needs a candidate for governor who can command the support that is given in Pennsylvania to a Republican nominee for the presidency of the United States.

Were the selection of a governor left to the voters of Indiana county Mr. Elkin's horizon would be bright, but the result will be decided not in Indiana county, but in the commonwealth at large. The Indiana Times mistakes local enthusiasm for state sentiment.

Public Bath Houses.

The question of public bath houses is again receiving attention in the official circles of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the consideration is so earnest that there is an encouraging prospect of tangible results. The success of the bath house established in this city in 1897 is a valuable object lesson, the nominal charge of 5 cents for soap and towel more than meeting the expenses of the institution. The suggestion that a number of such houses be erected deserves, and doubtless enjoys, general approval.

The appropriation of $10,000 for public bath houses in Allegheny has opened the way for the introduction of such beneficences in the sister city, and already it has been decided to thus utilize a building that has become municipal property. The proposed addition of a swimming pool as part of the equipment is another move in the right direction, and its adoption would do much to prevent loss of life. The love of swimming is so strong in the juvenile breast that hundreds of urchins and boys of larger growth are attracted to the rivers, with the result that every summer there is a distressingly long list of drownings. A guarded pool, where they could dabble and swim to their hearts' content, would keep many of them away from the rivers and decidedly decrease the number of fatalities. Cleanliness and safety are greatly enhanced by public bath houses, and the officials of both cities should push to completion the plans now under consideration.

Bishop Gore.

The scene at the consecration of the Rev. Charles Gore was a disgraceful exhibition of ignorant intolerance and stupid bigotry. The archaic liturgy which permits any fanatic to object to the consecration of a bishop of the Church of England was taken advantage of by a persistent character named Kensit to protest against the elevation of Dr. Gore to the see to which he had been duly appointed. Bishop Gore is a learned man. His editorship of Lux Mundi thrust him into an attitude of critical defense on Biblical interpretation which he neither invited nor foresaw. Dr. Gore is personally responsible for only one of the essays in the book, and that is of so learned, spiritual and deeply Christian character that those who do not agree with its tenor are the first to recognize its profound scholarship and great literary beauty. Dr. Gore believes that the Bible and Christianity can bear the searchlight of criticism; that they have nothing to fear from historical interpretation or rationalistic criticism. He is what is known as a high churchman, but he is the last man in the world to uphold ritualism merely for its sensuous symbolism.

Only a few weeks ago Bishop Gore (then Canon Gore) denounced with scathing indignation the condition of the concentration camps in South Africa. He did so although he surely was not without an intimation that it might be a cause of setting aside his promotion to the episcopal bench. His high character is shown in the circumstance that this did not deter him from obedience to his conscience. His writings are highly prized in this country for their originality, their humanitarian views, their profound theological learning and beautiful ethical character.

Trouble in Allegheny.

In discussing the doings of thieves and pickpockets in Pittsburgh and vicinity for the purpose of pointing a moral the Leader touches on a happening in Allegheny and comments on it in a manner that possibly reveals an unintended injustice to proteges of "the powers that be" on the North Side. The Leader tells it that two thieves robbed a doctor from Punxsutawney on a street car in Allegheny City, and declares that this was "contrary to the understanding men assert exists in Allegheny," and that they were made to give up their plunder and leave town. Now, our understanding is that the thieves who are permitted to make their homes in Allegheny merely agree in return for this immunity not to rob residents of Allegheny. If this is the bargain they were entirely within the letter of their permit in robbing a doctor from Punxsutawney temporarily in the city. That fine sense of honor reputed to exist among thieves would bar them from robbing an Alleghenian in Allegheny, and if they were compelled, as is stated, to give up their plunder and to leave the city, the protecting power violated its part of the agreement, or at least construed it in a broader spirit than the thieves, pickpockets, burglars, strong arm men, safe blowers and others of that ilk had reason to expect. Naturally they are strict constructionists, and the interpretation of the rules that drove two of their number out of town will be considered loose and unwarranted, or a low-down yellow truckling to the so-called better element, for it may be that the protecting power has taken what some may consider an advance step in this matter that marks a tendency toward reform. But be that as it may, it is evident fair notice had not been given the protected class, or else the two victims were away from home doing a few jobs of thieving in neighboring towns when the fraternity was "tipped off" and thus failed to be "put wise." Plainly there has been either a violation of confidence or a misunderstanding, for two professionals would hardly risk being turned out of home in cold weather for such plunder as they might find on the person of a temporary sojourner from Jefferson county. Doubtless there will be mutual explanations followed by a return of the exiles to their accustomed haunts. The alleged pact of the police authorities of the North Side with the thieves, etc., is in the nature of what is known in business circles as a "gentlemen's agreement," and there should be no violations of the unwritten code, such as the publication indicates, if cordial relations are to be maintained.

The Exclusion Bill.

Anything which ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster has to bring forward upon our treaty relations is worthy of calm and dispassionate consideration. In saying that China has upon four occasions modified existing treaties in favor of American citizens, he must know very well that such concessions on the part of the government of the celestial empire are no argument in favor of permitting the unrestricted influx of Chinese into the United States. Such a contention could have little weight, and least of all now, when the international relations of China with other countries as a self-contained and independent government are little less than a mockery. We have no intention of imposing on China on that account. On the contrary we have done our best in every way to mitigate the hardship of it and counteract its humiliation. Any modification of the status of American citizens in China which the government of that country extends toward them would be in regard to their commercial and mercantile enterprise, which was greatly in the interests of China herself. Mr. Foster seems to forget that a great many things have happened in China since 1868.

The people of this country have made up their minds that the introduction of Chinese labor would be a national peril and incalculable misfortune.

The Hague Arbitrators.

The international tribunal of arbitration at The Hague has not suffered yet from a congestion of business. Nothing has beeen done in the conciliation line, but the court is open and ready for any business that may come before it. Its bailiwick has been enlarged, so to speak, by the action of the Pan-American congress, and the truculent South American republics will find it more difficult to go to war after what has been done in the City of Mexico. The membership of the court is being maintained at its full strength. The late ex-President Harrison has been succeeded by Oscar S. Straus, a gentleman who will take the place of the dead jurist among the American members with satisfaction to all concerned.

If nothing has yet been done by The Hague arbitrators, it is also true that there has been no war between any two of the signatories. The Transvaal dispute was expressly reserved from cognizance at the time of the court's organization, and the Chinese troubles did not lend themselves to arbitration at first. The indemnities might have been referred to the court, but the foreign ministers could not be delivered from besieged Peking by arbitration. Obviously there are conflicts which arbitration cannot reach. The court can do nothing with rebellion and insurrection; but in settling disputes between governments and in keeeping international peace there is a wide scope for the exercise of its power.

The renunciation by Princess Elisabeth of Austria of all rights of succession to the throne of Austria-Hungary to enable her to wed Prince Otto Windisch-Graetz is not so important a sacrifice as many American papers and many foreign correspondents represent it to be. Though she be the daughter of the emperor, Princess Elizabeth cannot inherit the throne, the law that governs the Austrian succession passing women by in favor of men, of whom there are an abundance in the Hapsburg family. Male descendants of the princess might some day, should the empire hold together, come to the throne but for the act of renunciation, though the possibility would be so lessened with each generation that in sacrificing the prospects of her descendants the princess gave up nothing of much real value.

It is interesting to be told by the observant Berlin correspondents that Prince Henry has laid in a stock of gold and silver snuff boxes, cigarette cases, scarf pins and the like for distribution among the Americans he will meet. There is a fine gradation in the value of the presents, according to the official importance of the persons with whom the prince will come in contact, but all bear the initial "H.," which stands for Hohenzollern as well as for Henry, and the recipients will be duly pleased with the gifts. The prince's gift to the president has not yet been announced, but it is likely to be a fine hunting gun, with all sorts of modern German improvements, such as interchangeable shot and rifle barrels. Then the mountain lions and other game had better look out.

Pure Food Agent Terry's recital before the state board of agriculture of the difficulties he encountered in his prosecution of oleomargarine dealers in Allegheny county was much like a confession of the unpopularity of the law he has been trying to enforce. His assertion that the agents were frequently assaulted while taking samples of oleo, so that it was necessary for them to disguise themselves as workingmen, was rather surprising, but it may be another instance of "going away from home to hear the news." Unquestionably the oleomargarine law is unpopular in Pittsburgh, as it is in every city. There would be no objection, however, to a law which confines its provisions to protecting consumers from deception.

The emperor of China, as the result of the success of the foreigners against the Boxer movement, is now placed by the dowager empress on a level with the other sovereigns of the world, thus abandoning the shopworn theory of infinite superiority. This is a notable indication of Chinese progress.

Considering how little frightened we were over a possible European alliance during the Spanish war the now disputing powers are wasting a deal of good breath to prove something that makes little difference anyway.

It is one of the singular and unexplained facts of current news that all the young women who attempt to commit suicide are "handsome creatures with large, soulful, dark eyes."

Mr. Rathbone, who is on trial for looting the Cuban postoffice department, has tried nearly every other line of defense except an alibi.

Those committees that deside to entertain Prince Henry had better leave their orders at the box office early and avoid the rush.

From the silence in that direction we take it that the Hon. Chauncey Depew considers himself a closed incident.

Technical Break in the Rapid Transit Program.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.

As work on the rapid transit tunnel, the new East river bridge and plans for the Brooklyn tunnel progress, the peculiar fact is brought into prominence that there is no Rapid Transit Company in existence. The subway is under construction by a corporation having the privilege of tearing up the streets. When the subway is completed there will be electrically-propelled trains taken through it, and it is understood that the road will be operated under the direction of a heavily capitalized corporation. All this is true. At the same time the legislature at Albany will have to pass a bill permitting the contractor who is building the tunnel to assign the contract for operating the road. Such a bill was introduced by Assemblyman Kelsey yesterday. If the bill becomes a law, as probably it will, a company will be organized by August Belmont, president of the Rapid Transit Construction Company, with directors including William H. Baldwin, Jr., president of the Long Island Railroad Company; Cornelius Vanderbilt, George W. Young, E. M. Davidson, W. A. Reed, James Jourdan, Charles T. Barney, George Coppel, W. C. Emmet and W. G. Oakman. The organization of this company will make sure that there will be a set of men to operate the tunnel so that all technical difficulty in this regard will be removed. The knowledge that there was any break in the general management will be a surprise to many people, technical though that break may be. As for the East river bridge, it is progressing so fast that it may not be necessary for Commissioner Lindenthal to carry out his threat to fine the contractors for every day they spend on the work beyond the date set for its completion in the coming spring. People passing over the old Brooklyn bridge are tired of seeing the suspending cables of the new bridge, with no roadway beyond the towers on either side of the river. New York is in the position of being just on the verge of a great convenience, without being able to grasp it entirely. The crowding and danger at the bridge entrance and at the down-town "L" stations in the evening rush hours continues, and some disheartened New Yorkers affect to believe that there never will be any change.

Trouble Among the Aldermen.

It begins to look as if the aftermath of the board of aldermen meetings will furnish excitement in the districts of some of the Tammany members until a new meeting provides fresh fuel for argument and abuse. As Pittsburghers know, there was a desperate meeting of the board yesterday, and some of the members wanted to turn the chamber into a battleground for fisticuffs. President Fornes had a great deal of trouble in keeping the rantankerous aldermen in even the semblance of order, and many threats of personal violence were made. Today these aldermen have been fighting their engagements over again among their constituents, and it is only the fact that each alderman necessarily is in a separate district that prevents there being a battle royal in at least a dozen saloons in different parts of the borough, particularly on the East Side.

Patrick Takes His Ordeal Coolly.

Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer charged with murdering the old millionaire, Rice, needed all his nerve to sit quietly under the invective of the assistant district attorney, Osborne, today. Osborne is one of the most savage and relentless prosecuting officers this city ever saw. He was stopped two or three times by the counsel for the defense, but he took no notice of the objections. He went ahead in his own way, and by the time he had finished it looked as if Patrick was as good as convicted. But Patrick, baldheaded, oleaginous, with his little eyes screwed up and a cynical smile playing about his lips, was apparently unmoved. Even when Osborne pointed his finger at him as if it were a deadly weapon—a favorite forensic trick of his—Patrick did not wince, although some reporters for the sensational papers say he did. The defendant in this murder trial was one of the coolest men in the room. He hardly could have been unconcerned, but he looked it.

Reform Shakes Up the Lawyers.

Supreme court justices here are after the lawyers again. It is not an uncommon thing for a judiciary to shake up the attorney, for it seems as if there are so many lawyers here that they actually tumble over and obstruct one another in doing their work. The backwardness of the courts in disposing of their work was the subject of a sharp message from Gov. Odell a day or two ago, and it is a fact that there are more than 5,000 cases awaiting trial on the calendar of the special term of the supreme court. Yet two justices in these courts found nothing to do this morning, on account of the dilatory tactics of lawyers. These two parts are supplied with cases from special term, part III., where Justice O'Gorman is sitting. He sailed into the lawyers vigorously for not being ready and there was a great scurrying in many law offices on this account. It looks as if the lawyers will be a little more industrious for a while. The shake-up is one of the consequences of a reform administration. Activity is in the air.

Uptown Ferry Wanted.

There may be a new Brooklyn ferry. Residents of that part of Brooklyn opposite the upper part of Manhattan want to see a ferry line established from Broadway, Brooklyn, to the foot of East Forty-second street. This project has been agitated frequently for the last few years, but it was always represented to the applicants that there would be so many bridges across the East river that a ferry line was of little moment. Indications now are that the new ferry line may be established. If one wants to get from that part of Brooklyn to Manhattan nowadays, he cannot cross the river higher than Twenty-third street.

Tanbark a Pittsburgh Idea.

It comes out that the ingenious press agent for Mrs. Patrick Campbell, who contrived to get a lot of tanbark put down in the roadway in front of the Theater Republic to deaden the noise of traffic while Mrs. Pat was playing, was a Pittsburgher. His name is A. Toxen Worm, and he was a well-known newspaper man in Pittsburgh about 10 years ago. He left the city to become business manager for James O'Neill, the chronic Count of Monte Cristo, and now is taking care of Mrs. Pat's interests in New York. He had the papers of this city full of the tanbark project for a week, and even now, when all the stuff has been cleared away from the street by the "white wings," Mr. Worm contrives to get into print now and then with some reference to his everlasting tanbark. From a press agent's point of view it was an unusually clever piece of work. What the editors think about it is another matter.

Surprise for a Quarrelsome Neighbor.

A legal wrinkle that discomfited one Patrick Pendergast was sprung on that gentleman in the West Side police court today. Pendergast had caused the arrest of a neighbor named Sides for striking him (Pendergast) with an umbrella. The complainant did not appear in court this morning, so the magistrate issued an attachment for him. When Pendergast appeared in charge of an officer the magistrate asked him: "Do you want to withdraw this complaint?" "Yes, sir." "Um, well, it will cost you $3. You cannot waste the time of this court with impunity." And he had to pay, there being authority for the imposing of the costs in section 664 of the code of criminal procedure. It is seldom that this provision of the code is enforced, but it is obvious justice.

Drill and Dance Combined.

Broadway seemed to be full of soldiers tonight. There were military uniforms of all kinds, but all of them denoted that the wearer was of some rank, and epaulets and shoulder straps were so common that a soldier without them was almost a curiosity. The reason for all this warlike display was the Old Guards' ball in the Metropolitan opera house. This is New York's big military and social event combined. Besides the usual waltzing and other dancing, there are drills by different organizations on the immense floor, and the whole affair has the impressiveness of martial doings as well as the brilliancy inseparable from the presence of hundreds of beautiful women, splendidly dressed, moving about to the rhythm of music alternately sensuous and soul-inspiring. The ball this year is a tremendous exhibition, and the big Metropolitan never looked gayer, outside as well as inside.

Mme. Sembrich's Disastrous Sneeze.

Mme. Sembrich's mishap, which has been telegraphed all over the world, will make opera singers more careful than ever to avoid draughts. It is told that Sembrich's indisposition, which will prevent her filling any professional engagements until February 2, came from a sneeze. It strained a small artery in her throat, and she dare not sing for fear of making it worse. The ordinary woman might sneeze until all the arteries in her throat were twisted like a bag of fishworms, and she would not think much about it; but these divas, whose singing voice is worth a dollar a gurgle, must be circumspect.

Water Famine for the Tenderloin.

Broadway is to have a water famine. It will be only temporary, but it will be complete from Thirty-fourth street to One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street from 6 o'clock on Saturday evening until 6 on Sunday morning. It is the rapid transit contractors that are responsible. They want to change the position of the water mains, and they will stop the flow of Croton while they do it. As the district affected is the Tenderloin, where there is little water swallowed, except by accident, or as a "chaser" of stronger liquids, it will not be such a hardship as it might be elsewhere. Bath tubs will be thrown out of use for a few hours, but aside from that there will be little inconvenience from the shutoff.

The Beauty of the Century.

New York has another English beauty—or will have by tomorrow. She is the Countess de Grey, who is a passenger on the White Star liner Celtic, which should have come in today, but which has been delayed, presumably by Atlantic storms. T. P. O'Connor, editor of M. A. P., gave the countess the title of "the beauty of the century." She will be made much of in New York, for, in addition to the claims of her loveliness, she is a sister of the Hon. Michael H. Herbert, a British diplomat who married a daughter of Richard T. Wilson, and sister of Mrs. Ogden Goelet and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. Lady de Grey's maiden name was Gladys Herbert and her eldest brother is Earl of Pembroke. Lady de Grey recently opened an afternoon tea house for the nobility in Grafton street, London, and won considerable popularity and respect by frankly stating that she did it because she needed money.

Yes, Times Have Changed.

Policemen got a warning from Deputy Police Commissioner Thurston today at the police trials that was very much like one that used to come from "Big Chief" Devery every trial day, although no one took much notice of it then. It was that policemen "off post" are liable to be dismissed. Devery used to roar that he would "break" policemen, but it was understood that his heavy gun carried only blank cartridges. With Thurston it is different. When he said today that he would not allow policemen who were in the habit of being off post to remain on the force, it was felt that he meant what he said. His cogent assumption was that policemen missing from their beats were usually found in a saloon. The policemen of this city have come to the conclusion that times have changed for them since the new administration came in.

This Swindler Lowers Checks.

A new swindler has turned up in Wall street. He operates with checks, but reduces them, instead of raising them. His method is thus described: A stock exchange broker will sell 1,000 shares of a certain stock, perhaps to ten customers, at 91. Each purchaser will have a check for $9,100 for the seller when the messenger boys make their rounds early in the afternoon. Boys, as a rule, call out in brokers' offices asking for the check desired. The cashier sometimes, not having it ready, will shout to the boy to call again. It is believed the swindler followed these boys and when the latter were told to call again, the swindler would return before him and get the check; would then reduce the check, say from $9,100 to $10, which a bank would be much more likely to pay than the larger sum, especially to a stranger. Besides changing the amount the operator changes the name in the body of the check to "bearer." The rascal is said to have cleared nearly $3,000 by his operations and has not yet been caught.

D. of A. R. Preparing for the Annual Entertainment

Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, regent of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, appointed the committee which will have charge of the arrangements for the annual entertainment February 11. The appointing of the committee was deferred until the nature of the entertainment was decided upon, this decision being left with Mrs. Ammon and the chairman, Mrs. Park Painter. The committee now consists of Mrs. Park Painter, chairman; Miss Kate C. McKnight, Miss Julia M. Harding, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Mrs. William G. Hawkins, Mrs. William J. Holland, Mrs. Thomas W. Fitch, Mrs. J. Dexter Thayer, Mrs. Christian I. McKee and Miss Grace A. Gormly. The committee will meet next Monday at the Twentieth Century club to arrange the details of the entertainment, which this year will assume the form of a lecture by Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, United States navy. It will be given in Carnegie music hall on the evening of February 11. Many pleasant social features will give it special significance, and as it will be given in the music hall others besides the members of the chapter will have an opportunity of hearing the lecture, "The United States as a World Power." While in Pittsburgh, which the Daughters hope will be for several days, Capt. Hobson will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Holland.

Wilson-Ward.

Post-nuptial cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Wilson of Bellevue announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Browne Wilson and Harry P. Ward of Allegheny, which took place Monday last at the old Wilson homestead in Washington, Pa., which is the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Wilson, Sr. The wedding was quietly conducted, owing to the recent death of the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Masters of Bellevue, and there were no attendants. The Rev. Dr. Briney of Washington, who officiated at the marriage of Miss Wilson's parents, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. George Newman of Allegheny. The bride wore white pointe d'esprit and carried white roses, and the house was decorated with white roses and carnations and palms and ferns. After a wedding trip of a couple of weeks in the east Mr. and Mrs. Ward will make their home in Bellevue, where they will be at home to friends after February 15. The bride is well known in Bellevue and Pittsburgh, and is a graduate of Indiana State Normal. Mr. Ward is well known in financial and social circles.

McClure-Fullerton.

Quietly at the home of the bride's father, George W. McClure, Atlantic and Liberty avenues, Shadyside, last evening the marriage of Miss Mary Lucas McClure and Alexander Wilson Fullerton was solemnized. Only a few intimate friends and relatives were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Richard S. Holmes, D. D., pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Henry T. McClelland, D. D., pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church. The hour was 7 o'clock and the ceremony was followed by the wedding supper. Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom left for the east, where they will spend a few weeks. Their future residence will be in the East End. The bride is the second daughter of George W. McClure, a well-known broker. Mr. Fullerton is connected with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in East Pittsburgh. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fullerton of the East End.

Mrs. Gillespie Received.

Mrs. Thomas J. Gillespie gave a large afternoon tea and reception yesterday at her residence in Westminster place, Shadyside, her guests of honor being Mrs. J. S. Porter, Mrs. William A. Nicholson, Mrs. W. M. Rea, Mrs. Ernest H. McKinley, Mrs. Charles S. Hill, Miss Aiken, Miss Stephenson, Miss Rolf, Miss Shaw, the Misses Bingaman, Miss Heard, Miss Finley and Miss McCague.

The decorations of the luncheon table were exquisitely dainty, consisting of orchids and pansies. A cluster of pansies was placed beside each name card.

Mr. and Mrs. Moorhead will leave for Palm Beach February 20.

WANTS TO BE CONSTABLE.

Robert Balmer Is Not a Citizen, But Wants It Kept Secret.

Robert Allen Balmer, residence unknown, would like to be a constable. He fears that his citizenship will be questioned and has enjoined secrecy to the clerks of the United States district court. Balmer is not a citizen of the United States, yet he is so popular in the township which he calls home that his name has been put forward for constable.

Balmer was born in Canada, and was a warm supporter of the British crown until a few days ago. He has toiled on American soil for eight years, but never cared to become a citizen.

Recently he has been looking anxiously to an election as constable, and thought that some papers might be necessary. Accordingly, a few days ago, he renounced his allegiance to King Edward VII., and took out his first papers. Now he is wondering whether or not he can be elected and serve as constable.

PULLMAN CAR WRECKED AND TWELVE ARE INJURED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., Jan. 23.—The Washington sleeper attached to the second section of the Atlantic express on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad was overturned at McGarveys cut, three miles west of here, by a collision with a draft of 20 cars which had broken loose from an eastbound freight train. The 12 passengers were hurled from their berths. The only one to sustain injuries of consequence was Mayor Fritchey of Harrisburg, who was hurled against the upper end of a window frame. His shoulder was severely contused and his face was bruised. All the passengers were roughly shaken and nearly all were bruised.

The freight train on the east-bound track parted a short distance above where the collision occurred and the draft of cars started down grade slowly as the passenger train turned into the east-bound track.

Another car was added in this city and the train departed with all the passengers.

POLICEMAN MOBBED.

Beaten and Kicked by a Gang of Toughs in Soho.

Policeman Owen Waters was assaulted by a gang of toughs at Brady and Forbes streets shortly before midnight last night. He was struck several times on the head with clubs, and after falling to the ground was kicked until he lost consciousness.

Waters was standing at the corner of the two streets when a crowd of men came up. Without a word they assaulted him. He attempted to use his mace, but it was of little use against the heavy clubs wielded by his assailants. After beating and kicking him for several minutes the crowd dispersed and have not yet been apprehended.

Waters was found a short time later and sent to No. 4 police station in Oakland, where Dr. Alexander McCandless dressed his wounds. Fourteen stitches were necessary for the wounds in his head. His scalp is badly lacerated and his eye injured. He sustained many cuts and bruises about the body and limbs. He was removed to his home in the South Side.

Four men were in the party which assaulted the officer and all are well known to the police. Informations will be made and their arrest is expected during the day.

PITTSBURGH HOOPS FOR BALING INDIA COTTON

Also Used Extensively in Egypt and Great Britain—American Bridge Co.'s Australian Contract.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The American Steel Hoop Company, from its Pittsburgh mills, has just made the first direct shipment of American steel hoops to British India. The shipment, which amounted to 100 tons, is to be utilized for cotton-baling purposes.

Hitherto the hoops used in the Indian market have all come from British manufacturers. Pittsburgh mills produce steel hoops at a cheaper rate than they make the iron article of the same description. This is reversed in England, with the result that the Pittsburgh steel hoops, which are said to be stronger and of better finish than British iron hoops, are being shipped in steadily increasing quantities to Egypt.

Australia and South America also show a growing preference for steel hoops made in the United States. They are used chiefly in the packing of wool in those countries. Quantities also have been sent to Great Britain for use in herring barrels.

The American Bridge Company has been awarded a contract for the supply of structural material needed for the extension of the central generating station of the Sydney City and suburban tramways, Australia. The contract calls for 700 tons of steel, which is to be shipped from the Pittsburgh plant of the company within four months. The material, some 1,200 tons, for the present main power house at Sydney also was purchased from the American Bridge Company, the contract, which was placed last year, having been the first ever placed for a steel structure to be erected in Australia.

The entire equipment, costing nearly $250,000, for the original plant of the Australian concern, was purchased in the United States, the Best Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh having been allotted the contract for the requisite piping, which, valued at nearly $150,000, was the largest contract of its description ever placed in this country for export.

FATHER HUNTINGDON COMING

Supervisor of the Order of the Holy Cross Is to Conduct Missions in Pittsburgh.

An event of unusual interest in church circles will be the missions to be inaugurated in the Episcopal churches of this city early next March by the Rev. Father J. O. S. Huntingdon, superior of the Order of the Holy Cross of the Episcopal church. The Holy Cross order is composed of regularly ordained priests of the Episcopal church who live in common, something after the style of the monastic orders of the Catholic church. There is a monastery of the order in Westminster, Md. There are several members of the order engaged in parochial work in various cities of the east and west.

The Rev. H. C. Lancaster, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, South Side, is one of the body. Father Huntingdon is known throughout Greater New York as one of the foremost pulpit missionaries of the Episcopal faith and his presence here will, it is believed, bring out large crowds. The program of services is not entirely completed yet, but will be such as to give everyone an opportunity of hearing this famous missionary.

Father Huntingdon will arrive here March 2 and will open his series of sermons in St. Mark's church, South Side, the same evening. Every afternoon of that week he will conduct the men's noonday services in Trinity church. In the evenings he will preach in St. Mary's chapel, Bishop Whitehead's chapel. Arrangements have been made to have Father Huntingdon preach in Washington, Pa., and other surrounding towns. During his stay here he will reside with Mr. Lancaster of St. Mark's church, South Side.

BIG DEAL REPORTED.

Pennsylvania Said to Have Bought West End Belt Line and Coal Lands.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is reported to have purchased 11,000 acres of coal lands from John S. Scully, and also the West End Belt line for $3,000,000, but the report could not be verified last evening.

John S. Scully is in the east, and will not be home for several days, and officials of the Pennsylvania company who were asked concerning the transaction said that they knew nothing about it. If the rumor is true in regard to the Belt line, it places the Pennsylvania in position to put the Wabash to considerable inconvenience in its efforts to secure Pittsburgh terminals.

election. The district is now represented by Mr. Bankhead, one of the leaders of the minority in the house. Mr. Bankhead is an astute politician and has no intention of relinquishing his position. To secure even the nomination Capt. Hobson will have a hard fight on his hands.

The appearance of Capt. Hobson before the retiring board was in consequence of a formal application which he made a week ago to Secretary Long. He declared that his eyes incapacitated him from further active service and that the injury had been received in the line of duty. He has been under treatment for some time, and he has failed to sufficiently recover his eyesight for the important technical work in which a constructor must attend.

Under the law an officer retired on account of physical disability receives three-fourths of the highest pay of his grade. Friends of Capt. Hobson in congress are starting a movement to retire him on full pay.

Capt. Hobson left Washington at midnight tonight for Bridgeport, Conn., where he will deliver a lecture on "The United States as a World Power." From Bridgeport he will go to New York, where he will speak on the "Navy and the Nation." He will then return to the Charleston exposition, where he is on duty.

PERSONALS.

"My sister is alive and well, according to the latest accounts," said Perley A. Stone, at the Hotel Lincoln, brother of Miss Ellen Stone, the American missionary now held captive by brigands in Bulgaria. "I have an appointment with the secretary of state tomorrow in regard to negotiations for my sister's release. I know that she is alive, as many letters have been received from her by friends. All the information I have has come through the state department, which has been doing everything it could for her. The release of my sister has stirred up the entire civilized world. The simple fact is that American travelers abroad do not receive proper protection from their government. If their person or property are endangered their only recourse is an appeal to the British representatives, who never fail to take up their complaints. This has been particularly true in regard to American travelers in Bulgaria and Macedonia. American passports are very much different from those furnished by the British government. The latter are very clear, and when presented to foreign officials are received with great respect. I think that my sister will receive her freedom, but the delay is causing us much worry."

H. B. Dawson of Elkhart, Ind., for seven years in the patent office at Washington, was a passenger on the limited from Union station last night. "One of the most interesting inventions which has turned up at the patent office is the new automatic telephone," said Mr. Dawson. "This is not nearly complete, but many men are working on inventions which will make it so. The workings are very complicated and it will require a long time to perfect it. There are a few in operation now, but they are not being worked successfully. Many improvements have been made in the patent office for the accommodation of strangers, and in the future visitors will take more interest in this department."

J. A. Schwab of Loretto, father of C. M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, is stopping at the Seventh Avenue hotel. When approached last night he said he was too tired to talk, but said before leaving: "Before leaving home I received a cablegram from Charlie, who is in Berlin. He says he is in good health."

J. E. Lind and family of the East End entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Belmont of the Henry Irving company at dinner at the Hotel Henry last night.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company superintendents of the western division were banqueted last night at the Henry.

WILL BE OPEN LONGER.

Expo. Directors May Extend Length of Season to Accommodate the Growing Crowds.

The management of the exposition have in view a bigger and more attractive exposition this year than heretofore. Arrangements are now pending with some novel attractions that are to be brought on and the musical program promises to be on a standard with those of former years.

It is likely, too, that the season will be longer this year than heretofore. This is made necessary by the large audiences that have attended the big show. Although no definite statement has been issued to this effect, the management stated yesterday that it would probably be done. For years past the exposition has been an event of unusual interest in Western Pennsylvania and each year the growth was such that it became a question how to accommodate the large crowds that went to the Point.

The question, the management believes, can only be solved by prolonging the season and it is not unlikely that with this year's exposition there will be newer features and a longer season. The board of directors of the Exposition society met yesterday afternoon and organized for 1902 by electing the following officers: President, Francis J. Torrance; first vice president, H. J. Heinz; second vice president, D. C. Ripley; treasurer, A. P. Burchfield; secretary, A. M. Jenkinson; general manager, Thomas J. Fitzpatrick.

It was decided to open September 3 and run the usual period of 40 days, leaving the closing date subject to change. The date of closing will not be definitely determined for some weeks yet.

BLAMED PRESIDENT.

Glass Manufacturer Says Men Would Have Had Raise Last Year Had It Not Been for Burns.

There was some speculation yesterday as to the probable effect on the window glass situation of the advance in wages given by the American Window Glass Company to its workmen, and the prompt counter move of the Independent Glass Company in notifying its employes of a like increase.

H. M. Hillister, representing the National Window and Bent Glass Company of Montpelier, Ind., was at the headquarters of the new L. A. 300, the Denny organization of window glass workers. Mr. Hillister said the workmen employed by his company would have had the advance last year, but that Simon Burns, president of the old window glass workers union, accepted a 5 per cent increase.

PAINTERS FIND SCENES PLENTY IN OLD HOLLAND

Picturesque People Amidst Quaint Architecture and Odd Places.

MORE NEW CANDIDATES

Fayette County Young Man Holds Ballots at a Premium—Rules of the Contest Repeated So That No Mistakes Shall Be Made.

Holland has probably been better pictured than any other country in the world. One reason for this is the intensity of the patriotism of her artists, who have almost confined themselves to reproducing home scenes. Next to that is the abundance of picturesque material. The tiled roofs lend themselves to pictorial effects and the people harmonize with their quaint architecture.

The painting of a social family evening gathering in a Dutch village, "Fierabend in Holland," is a characteristic bit of Holland life. The old gentlemen with their pipes, the fraus and frauleins busy with the last touches of cleaning for the day, the children rollicking in abandon in the court. The poorest people and they are very poor, seem to enjoy themselves as in no other land.

The village of Broek, six miles east of Amsterdam, inhabited mainly by retired burghers, who have been in shipping or merchandise, is one of the queerest of places. Cleanliness has been carried to such an extreme that the people take off their shoes before entering their houses, walking within in slippers or unshod. No one is allowed to drive upon the streets of the little town. Horsemen may enter leading, but not riding, their animals. Dirt of any kind is abhorred, and woe unto the slovenly one who brings in unnecessary filth.

The school teachers who tour Europe with The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will enter Holland from Belgium and leave it going to Cologne. They will have a good opportunity to observe the life of the country, to see the quaint villages, the marvelous farms, the canals and windmills for which the land is famous. In Holland the winter and spring flowering bulbs so freely planted in this country are grown. The teachers' tour will be a little too late to see tulips and hyacinths in the magnificence of their bloom, but they will find Holland rich in other flowers. Blossoms and Dutch homes go together like things in nature.

Candidates for the tour continue to come forward. Following are the names of some of them:

Miss Anna Andrews, McDonald schools, Allegheny county.

Miss Lydia E. Paisley, New Castle schools, Lawrence county.

Miss Carrie Duval, Coal Center school, Coal Center, Pa.

Miss Norah McNary, Wilkinsburg schools, Allegheny county.

Miss Harriet Pool, Liberty school, Pittsburgh.

Mary M. Provost, Emsworth school, Allegheny county.

Miss Alice E. Smith, Colfax school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Adda Sheets, Leet township schools, Allegheny county.

V. O. Rhodes, McElhaney school, Beaver county.

It seems an error was made in announcing Miss Zella Breckinridge, as she was accredited to Mercer county. She is teaching at Glenshaw, Allegheny county, and the error is cheerfully corrected.

Miss Josephine G. Kerr of Bellevue writes to say she is not a candidate—though voted for—but is supporting Miss Bessie M. Conley of Lincoln place school, Allegheny county.

Miss Mary M. Sanders, teacher of domestic science, Sixth ward, Allegheny, has withdrawn from the contest.

The following interesting item is from the Connellsville News: "A certain gentleman in Springhill township is saving the coupons for the European trip from the Pittsburgh papers, and he says that any young lady teacher who will send him her picture can have the coupons."

The following is from the Indiana Times: "Miss Laura C. Cochrane, formerly of Willett, this county, and a graduate of our normal school, now teaching in the Greensburg schools, is the choice of the Greensburg schools for a free Pittsburgh Gazette trip to Europe. Cut the coupons out of your Gazette and send them to Miss Cochrane at Greensburg. She will appreciate the favor very much."

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series closes. They must be filled out legibly, with full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not rolled or crumpled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; leaves New York July 5, by Atlantic transport line steamer; arrives London July 15; Antwerp, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 22; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 25; Heidelberg, July 26; Lucerne, July 28; The Rigi, July 29; Interlaken, July 30; Paris, August 1; London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 8; leave Glasgow by Anchor Line steamer Columbus, August 9; expect to arrive New York August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, i. e., persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. These will be apportioned as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county outside of the two cities, and seven from those parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county, but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of these papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, and these papers will give each member of the party $50 in cash to gratify individual tastes. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the guests.

The contest will close May 31 and the result will be announced as soon after all of the votes are in as possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count for three votes each. The ballot will be found at the top of the second page in each issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. The whole ballot, including border, must be sent in.

E. C. B. writes: Will you kindly suggest some way of using up bits of stale cake? I have used them in puddings.

CAKE CROQUETTES.

When you have a pint of stale cake crumbs cover them with a cup of milk and soak until soft, about 20 minutes. Put into a double boiler and cook until thick. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs and cook a few seconds longer, then remove from the fire; add teaspoonful of vanilla and turn out to cool. When cold enough form into pyramids, dip into beaten egg and roll in bread crumbs mixed with chopped almonds. Fry same as other croquettes and serve with fruit sauce. Canned or preserved strawberries may be added to this mixture and a lemon sauce served with the croquettes.

Hard Colds

Hard colds nearly always lead to something serious. They run into chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption. Doctors know this. That's why they so generally approve of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. They tell us they cannot prescribe anything that cures coughs so quickly.

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured my daughter of a very bad cough after we had tried about everything else without relief."—E. B. Davis, Providence, R. I.

R·I·P·A·N·S

For fifteen years I was forced to take calomel every spring, followed by doses of physic. One Ripans Tabule every night now has done away with the old-fashioned method.

At Druggists.

The Five-Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion.

The Family Bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

See that Spot!

You dont, but your friends do.

Why don't you have it covered? It can be done. The trouble is not chronic, but functional. It is caused by a weakened condition of the hair follicle, due to a microbe that feeds upon and destroys the delicate mucous membrane with which it is lined.

The hair-root, deprived of its nourishment, gradually becomes weakened, shrivels up and the hair easily falls from its collapsed follicle.

This very common condition—known as premature baldness—is overcome by the use of Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food, the only safe and scientific cure for all hair and scalp diseases. It strikes at once at the seat of the disorder, destroys the microbe that causes it and assists in feeding the weakened hair follicle back to health.

Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food is not greasy or sticky, and contains no disagreeable or dangerous sediments. It is clean, pure as crystal, and delightful to use. Its odor is pleasant, yet not pungent. The important thing is—it grows hair.

For Sale by Druggists at $1.00 the bottle, or sent, expressage prepaid, on receipt of price by the Cranitonic Hair Food Co.

SPECIAL NOTICE—If you have a thinly-covered spot like that shown above you are becoming prematurely bald. Don't wait until your case becomes chronic. Write the Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Institute, 526 West Broadway, New York City, and send a small sample of your hair combings, state in your letter if you have dandruff, falling hair or itching scalp, when our physicians will make a microscopic examination of the hair, mail you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge.

To all who send hair we will mail free a 48-page illustrated book, entitled "Hair Cure;" also a sample of the Cranitonic products.

The Four-Club Circuit May Be a Go

SPALDING WILL NOT ESTABLISH RIVAL CLUBS

League Leader's Personal Representative Emphatic on That Point.

FOUR-CLUB ORGANIZATION

That Is What the Spalding Faction Is Prepared to Form—C. D. White Visits This City and Talks About the Baseball War.

It is not the intention of A. G. Spalding to attempt to place rival clubs in New York, Boston, Cincinnati and St. Louis in case the Brush-Freedman four refuse to get into line and reform the old eight-club circuit. This is the emphatic declaration of C. D. White, who was in the city yesterday, and this gentleman knows whereof he speaks.

Mr. White is the man whom A. G. Spalding named on Saturday last to look out for his baseball interests while he is on a two weeks' visit to New Mexico and to whom the members of the Spalding faction will look for information during their leader's absence. That Mr. White is eminently fitted for the trust reposed in him is demonstrated by the fact that for eight years he was president of the Eastern and International Leagues and he is one of Mr. Spalding's most trusted lieutenants in the baseball business. He arrived in this city early yesterday morning and departed for Chicago early in the evening.

Pittsburgh a Spalding Stronghold.

Mr. White said that his visit here had no connection whatever with the baseball war and intimated that a mission of that kind was not necessary, as Pittsburgh is a Spalding stronghold, with President Dreyfuss as its strongest leader. Mr. White's first visit here was to call on C. B. Power, the president of the Western association, whom he found confined to bed at his home in Oakland, a sufferer from an aggravated attack of muscular rheumatism. When asked if his call on Mr. Power was for the purpose of lining up the minor league organizations in Spalding's favor he laughed and said that was not necessary, as the National Association of Minor Leagues had already arrayed itself on the side of Spalding and clean baseball, and the Western association was a part of that organization.

Mr. White said that there had been no new developments in the baseball situation since the departure of Mr. Spalding, and if there are any they will be made public at once, as the Spalding policy is against gum-shoe methods and secrecy in baseball matters. He looks for something big to develop within the next two weeks and it will have an important bearing on the baseball situation.

Will Have Four-Club Circuit.

Regarding the recent statements that in case the Brush-Freedman faction failed to get into line that the other side was prepared to go ahead with a four-club circuit, he said that was so and pointed out where the four clubs would find it a good thing. The Pittsburgh club, for instance, could have almost every Saturday at home and Saturday is the best baseball day in the week here, and could make jumps over to Chicago and play almost every Sunday. He said this matter had been thoroughly discussed by Mr. Spalding and the club owners who have stood by him and there is a thorough understanding on the subject.

Would Be Cheaper to Buy Clubs.

Mr. White was positive that it was not Mr. Spalding's intention to place opposition teams in either New York, Boston or any of the opposition towns for the reason that the clubs there could be bought for much less money than it would take to start a new one. The Freedman proposition, he admitted, was rather a difficult problem to solve, but he was certain the New York man will be forced to sell his stock and get out of baseball. Mr. White was certain that Mr. Spalding had nothing whatever to do with the grounds which Kid Carsey is alleged to have secured in New York. He said that if Spalding was going to do any business of that kind in New York he would have a more prominent representative in Gotham than Carsey.

WANT FIELD MEET HERE.

Local School Athletes Will Work to That End—High School Elects Officers.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Pittsburgh High School Athletic association held yesterday afternoon the most important project touched upon was the use of Schenley park for the holding of the annual interscholastic field meet for Western Pennsylvania this season. Decoration day is a date suggested and it is considered that such an event would be a big drawing card for the people's holiday. This annual meet of the schools has been held at Washington, Pa., under the auspices of the W. & J. preparatory school for several years, the last here in Pittsburgh having been held at old P. A. C. park.

Kiskiminetas and Shady Side academy are two schools which are right in line with the High school movement to hold the meet here. It is claimed that a far larger number of schools will participate at a meet held at Schenley than have ever taken part at Washington. The Rayen High school of Youngstown, University School of Cleveland and Allegheny High school are offered as institutions that would compete if the meet is held here, but have not been in line at Washington.

Kiski is discontented with the meet as held at Washington, there having been considerable feeling over the competition last season of Indiana Normal school, which it is claimed has no right to be ranked with the preparatory schools. As Kiski, Shady Side and High school form a strong trio the local students are confident of being able to carry their point.

In the election of officers of the association Henry Nickel, well known as a football and basketball player at the school, was elected president. Herman Smith, the active captain of the hockey team, received two offices, as manager of both the track and tennis teams. Others elected are: Vice president, Mr. Crawford; secretary, Mr. Dallas; treasurer, Prof. Cooper; baseball manager, Mr. George Smith; football manager, John Patterson.

Mr. Gosser of the central board of education, who was present, spoke to the boys, expressing his hope that the association would pass a resolution against High school athletes playing on any other teams while serving the school. It was decided at the meeting to issue season tickets for all athletic games of the year to cost the students $1 each.

FRONTENAC WAS EASY PICKING

KEYSTONE MADE NEW SEASON'S RECORD OF SEVEN GOALS.

Canadians Went Direct from Train to the Ice and Could Not Play Their Game. Star Work by Morrison and Sixsmith Young Was Hurt.

Fresh from a long railroad journey which left them in shape for anything but the kind of hockey necessary to hold the Keystone leaders of the local league, the Frontenacs of Kingston, Canada, met defeat in their first attempt here last night by a score of 7 to 0, the largest tally of the season.

The Canadians were snowbound at Niagara Falls and had never even had a look at the rink here until they pitched out at 9:10 and attempted to play hockey, and they could hardly distinguish the cheers of the crowd from the noise of the rails which they had so recently left. Though the Keystones did not have their strongest seven on the ice, the game against the travel-stained visitors was a short and fast one of superior team play, harder, surer shooting and far more skillful stick work.

Frontenacs Kept on Defensive.

The Canadians were kept on the defensive throughout the game and the absence of Hern at goal was never felt by Keystone. Hern and Peel being under the ban of the Ontario Hockey association could not play. Westcott was ill in bed and Young went in at wing, while Sammons played his first game of the season in Peel's place.

When about five minutes of the first half had been played Young had his left wrist badly cut by the sharp blade of a skate and was forced to retire, Campbell of the Bankers taking his place.

Campbell played a star game and strengthened Keystone, but Morrison, as on Tuesday night, was again the star. He carried the puck in, out and around the opposing players almost at will, while his shots were among the surest and longest ever made here. Sixsmith, as usual, was nearly a whole team in himself, always after heady combination play. For the visitors Murphy played the best game, while Rodgers, a member of the champion Ottawas of last season, was in the game all the time.

Three in the First Half.

When the first half ended the score was 3 to 0. The first score was made by Morrison 15 minutes after the start. The puck was passed by Sixsmith. The second, three minutes later, was on the star order, Morrison taking from face off near the center, carrying down unaided, and making a hard 20-yard shot.

Two minutes later Sixsmith and Campbell carried down and the former passed to Clemes, who shot goal.

The first score of the second half was on a hard angle 15-yard shot of Morrison's from the left of net. Four minutes later Sixsmith made it read 5 to a goose egg, carrying down the center unaided and shooting past point. It was a pretty play. Clemes scored the sixth from a scrimmage. For the last Clemes shot over from the left, Morrison sent to the edge of the net and Sixsmith clubbed in from the right goal post. The line up:

Keystone—7.		Frontenac—0.
Bish	Goal	Mills
Sammons	Point	Robinson
Murphy	Cover Point	Murphy
Sixsmith	Center	Embury
Morrison	Forward	Hiscock
Clemes	L. Wing	Rodgers-Powell
Young-Campbell	R. Wing	Powell-Rodgers

Referee—Caldwell. Goal judges—Garrett and Hell. Goals—Morrison 3, Sixsmith 2, Clemes 2. Benched—Powell, Murphy and Rodgers.

WON BY MONROE.

Beat Freeman and Maya in a Motor Paced Race.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Benny Monroe of Memphis carried off the honors tonight in the motor paced bicycle race, with Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore.; Otto Maya, Erie, Pa., and A. Rutz, New Haven, Conn., at the Second regiment armory. Freeman captured second place and Maya took third money. The race was run in two heats of five miles each and two finals of 10 miles each. Monroe and Freeman were pitted against each other for first money. Freeman led the first mile, and then Monroe caught him and went to the front. The latter gained steadily and on the sixth mile lapped his opponent.

Jimmy Michael, paced by Albert, champion of France, on a motor, rode an exhibition mile in 1:32 1-5, which is considered very fast on a 12-lap track.

AMATEUR SKATING RACES.

Will Be Held on Verona Lake—"Toots" Preston to Take Part.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Races for the amateur skating championship of the United States and Canada will be held at Verona, N. J., January 31 and February 1 if conditions are favorable. The events include a half mile and one, three, five and ten-mile races. Entries which are received by S. D. See, 18 Wall street, this city, will close January 27.

"Toots" Preston of this city, who is the amateur champion of Pennsylvania, will participate in these races and endeavor to capture the championship. Preston is practicing daily at Duquesne garden and is said to be doing faster work than ever before. He will leave for Verona next week and will be accompanied by Trainer Davy Sheehan.

Two Games at Manchester.

There will be two fast games of basketball tomorrow night at Manchester Turner hall. The first contest will be between the Railroad third team and the Sterling A. C. These teams have met once before this season at Railroad's gymnasium, and the home team, though considerably outsized, defeated their opponents after a hard struggle by the score of 17-16. The coming game will be fully as exciting, as the teams will have more playing space in which to develop their team work than they had in their last meeting.

Immediately after this game the Manchester Jrs. and the Dinwiddie Reds will oppose each other for the first time this season. The Reds have been hot after a game with Manchester for the past two months, and Manager Roth has finally decided to give them the opportunity which they have been so eagerly seeking. The first game will be started promptly at 8 o'clock, and will consist of two 15-minute halves, with 10 minutes' intermission. This will enable Referee Little to start the main exhibition by 8:45. Manager Roth expects one of the largest turnouts of the season.

Canadians and Bankers Tonight.

Tonight the Frontenacs, after recovering from their hard journey and getting accustomed to the rink, expect to make a far different showing against the Bankers.

THE ESQUIMO

The Esquimo eats blubber. The lumbermen eat pork. These people are constantly exposed to cold and physical strain. Experience has taught them that fatty foods give warmth and nourishment.

For those who have cold and thin bodies, or are threatened with consumption or any wasting disease, there is no fat in so digestible and palatable a form as Scott's Emulsion. Physicians prescribe it.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

PLUNGER LEWIS HIT OAKLAND BOOKS HARD

SENSATION AT THE TRACK

The Plunger's Clever Work Was Hard on the Talent—Stewards Decide The Giver Was Not Poisoned. Many Favorites Were First.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Plunger H. Lewis took about $20,000 out of the ring at Oakland today, and created a sensation. He beat the fifth race, betting $10,000 on Muresca alone. He also won $5,000 on Nilgar in the first race. Lewis came here from New York and bought Pompino and other horses. Favorites landed first in several of the races. GREAT PLAN OF PENNSYLVANIA IMPROVEMENTS top of the steep wharf, it will be 35 feet above the street. Trouble may come, however, when an attempt is made to cross the proposed Wabash line to Allegheny.

It is not generally known that the Pennsylvania owns a narrow piece of ground running from the tracks of that company just west of Federal street, Allegheny, through the two blocks to the river, down the Allegheny wharf. The property is the old site of the canal which was bought by the Pennsylvania.

This property offers to the Fort Wayne and Pittsburgh & Western a possible route to a new bridge over the river, even the wharf being the property of the Pennsylvania. A bridge at this point is said to be included in the general scheme.

Nicola's Statement.

F. F. Nicola, the reputed head of the warehouse syndicate, has issued the following statement:

To the Public:

To prevent any further misunderstanding relative to the warehouse project at the Point, I deem it my duty to explain the entire matter.

The scheme was the result of investigation into the Cupples station at St. Louis. Prior to the establishment of that splendid system of warehouses, St. Louis occupied the same position as a jobbing market as Pittsburgh today. The advantages have been so great during the year of its successful operation that St. Louis has forged to the front as the leading jobbing city of the middle west.

Saving Is Great.

The great feature of the Cupples system is the delivery of merchandise in small or large quantities at a minimum expense of handling.

One of the tenants, the Simmons Hardware Company, saves in the item of cartage alone $60,000 per year.

Pittsburgh has only three wholesale houses with railroad facilities. The rest are under a burden of enormous handling charges to and from the depots and about their warehouses, which prevents even competition with other cities.

Most of the warehouses are antiquated and under high cost of insurance, which adds further to the burden.

The leading jobbers here urged that unless some provision was made which would place Pittsburgh on an equal footing with Cleveland, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Chicago and St. Louis, the jobbing business of this community would dwindle to very small proportions and possibly be ruined altogether.

The Way It Was Secured.

So earnest were these merchants for the establishment of this warehouse project that twenty-five of them sent letters to the councils petitioning them to vacate the streets on Mrs. Schenley's property. Believing the project would be welcomed by every citizen of Pittsburgh, and not considering for a moment that it would be treated as a political or objectionable measure, I entered into negotiations with Mrs. Schenley for her entire property at the Point.

On August 2, 1901, I purchased a very considerable interest in the Point and made arrangements for the improvements. I represented myself alone and not a syndicate, corporation or railroad. Any statements to the contrary are without any foundation whatsoever.

On this property within a distance of 500 feet, there were five streets and alleys, all of which were rarely used.

Trackage Provided.

The plan drawn provides for the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad from Liberty street entering into this property a distance of 800 feet long, and covering the space with tracks and platforms 120 feet wide. It was impossible to operate the tracks or platforms for the receipt and shipment of goods from the warehouses without the vacation of the streets.

The entire property, with its present warehouses, shanties and saloons, bring a total revenue to the city of $11,833. Under the proposed improvements, the taxes would not be less than $100,000 per year, yielding into the municipal treasury a sum far in excess of the highest possible value that could be placed on the streets.

Relieve Congestion.

I felt that any enterprise which would relieve the congested condition of our city, and result in such additional revenue would receive the hearty approval of the press as well as our citizens.

The vacation of the streets was enacted by the councils, during a period of four months. There were absolutely no political influences exercised to secure the same.

The fact that all factions in the common and select councils, as well as the survey committee, appointed to examine into the merits of the case, voted unanimously for the vacation of the streets, should end any further efforts to give political aspect to the project. Much has been said of access to the Exposition being hampered by closed streets.

Will Not Hurt Expo.

The twelve directors of that society, men who are the most prominent in Pittsburgh affairs, addressed communications to the survey committee showing that they were, without exception, in favor of the closing of these streets.

They considered the present condition at the Point to be a greater detriment to their interest than the giving up of those unused streets. It may be stated here that these streets were never deeded to the city, which only enjoyed an easement therein.

For whatever the city has expended on these streets for grading, sewering and paving, a bond has been filed for re-payment, as well as a bond in the sum of $100,000, to hold the city harmless for any damages resulting from closing of the streets.

There was opposition to the vacation of Fort street on the part of the Daughters of the American Revolution, notwithstanding the fact that Miss Matilda W. Denny advised on December 4 that she did not see how the D. A. R. could object to the closing of Fort street.

Fort Street Was to Be Blocked.

She stated that the society received the gift from Mrs. Schenley, with the understanding that Fort street was to be closed, and that Mrs. Schenley, in her liberal generosity, had given the entrance from Penn avenue, with that in view. These advices, however, were personal and not official.

As an evidence that the entire society was pledged to the vacation of Fort street, I refer to page 37 of "The History of Fort Duquesne and Fort Pitt," published by the Pittsburgh chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1899, which states as follows: "An ordinance to close Fort street passed the city councils some years ago, but has never been enforced. As soon as the ordinance is carried into effect, the line of the 'Block House' property will be extended to the middle of the street, when the passage to Penn avenue will be open and a substantial fence take the place of the temporary one at present on the ground."

History Should Be Correct.

We have the right to presume that this chronicle of this historical society presents the full facts, and that a distinct bargain was entered into between Mrs. Schenley and the society, which would stop them from any complaint as to Fort street.

It has been stated in some of the newspapers that O'Hara street was to be opened. The official history of the society does not make any mention of that fact.

In answer to the representations made by the D. A. R. to various social and commercial bodies regarding the removal or destruction of the "Block House," I submit a copy of the following letter:

No Trespass Planned.

"January 21, 1902.

"Miss Matilda Denny, President D. A. R. Association, City.

"Dear Miss Denny:

"That there may be no further misunderstanding regarding the proposed movement at the Point, permit me to state that no plans have been made, and none are contemplated, which will trespass on one foot of ground belonging to your association, or which anticipate the purchase or acquirement of any part of your property.

"Articles contributed to the public press by your members would indicate that there is some purpose on the part of those whom I represent to move the 'Block House' from its present location. I assure you that such is not the case.

Offer That Was Made.

"The proposition which was made to pay a certain sum of money as well as the expense of removal from the present location to Schenley park was at the instance of several prominent members of your association.

"Shortly after the suggestion, the matter was brought up, in the presence of your attorney, and the writer was asked what would be paid, in case the D. A. R. would consent to the removal. I thereupon stated that I would pay the sum of $25,000, all expenses of removal, the cost of satisfactory foundations, a park fence about the property and a tablet to be erected on the present property of the D. A. R., which tablet would be a memorial of the fort, and all of which would be arranged under the direction and subject to the approval of your association.

"On the request of your attorney this offer was put in writing, and through him submitted to you. When the offer was declined, and your body refused to appoint a committee to further negotiate in the matter, the incident was closed, so far as we are concerned.

"I may further state that during the progress of the improvement of the property every precaution will be taken to prevent any injury to the 'Block House.' When excavations are made for foundations of buildings special care will be exercised to find, save and donate to you all relics that would be of interest to your society.

"Trusting you will bring these advices to the notice of your entire association, I am,

"Very truly,
"FRANK F. NICOLA."

A Business Proposition.

This project is no part whatsoever of proposed plans on Duquesne way or the Monongahela wharf. No negotiations have been entered into with the Pennsylvania, Lake Erie or Baltimore & Ohio railroads. I must protest against any statements to the contrary.

The purpose is to make such use of the Point property as will be a credit to the city of Pittsburgh, and relieve conditions which are harmful to our shipping interests. There is no disposition whatsoever to interfere with any neighbor.

This is a business enterprise, and I only ask such treatment from the press and the public as every owner is entitled to in the disposition and improvement of his own land.

Truly your,
FRANK F. NICOLA.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Jan. 23.—River 9 feet at 6 p. m. and rising. Clear and pleasant. The ice has disappeared entirely. Capt. Thomas Hall's new boat, the Jack Frost, arrived today from the Madison ways. The Charlotte Boeckler arrived from below with a tow of lumber. Capt. Joseph Gould, the owner of the towboat Pacific No. 2, was a visitor today. Diver Isaac Skelton was forced to lay off today on his work on the wreck at Rising Sun on account of illness. The work at that point is progressing rapidly, 117 rails having been raised the first day. The Sunshine got away on time with a record-breaking cargo for Vicksburg. The City of Pittsburgh will be the next steamer out for that port.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; canal, 4.8 feet; falls, 2.6 feet; foot of locks, 7.6 feet. Business moderate. Cloudy and threatening rain. The ice in the river has gone. Packets on time. The Jim Wood and Harry Brown left for Cincinnati at noon with tows. Capt. Thomas James and wife left today for a two-months' visit to Florida. Pilot Frank Gilmore came from Pittsburgh on the Jim Wood.

POINT PLEASANT—River 5 feet 3 inches and rising. Cloudy and cool. Down, Courier; Baxter to Kanawha.

PARKERSBURG—River 7 feet and stationary. Mild and cloudy. No boats. Calvert Brothers have bought the Baxter, and will put her in the Big Kanawha trade to take the place of the Kanawha Belle, which went over the dam at Paint creek several weeks ago.

MEMPHIS—River 4.4 feet, a fall of .65 in 24 hours. The Raymond Horner from New Orleans with a tow of empty coal barges passed up last night for the Ohio river.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet 5 inches and stationary. Cloudy.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet and stationary. Cloudy.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet 1 inch and stationary. Cold and cloudy.

WARREN—River 1 foot 2 inches. Heavy snow and colder.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet 6 inches and closed. Cloudy and cold.

MARIETTA—River 4.5 feet and stationary. Cloudy and cool.

GALLIPOLIS — River 6 feet and falling. Cloudy and cold.

NO RISE IN SIGHT.

Conditions Do Not Favor a Resumption in Navigation.

Rivermen are especially interested in weather conditions just at present, and the weather map is scanned closely. The temperature is at a point that prevents the snow from melting, and while cloudy conditions are expected for a day or two, most rivermen are of the belief that there will be no movement of coal for a number of days to come.

If a rise does not soon develop, the amount of coal marketed since the opening of navigation last November will have fallen considerably below the usual shipments at this season of the year. February, as a rule, produces good water and it is expected that there will be several coal shipments made between now and March 1. There is a market for coal in the south, where the stock afloat is at a low ebb. A cold wave would stimulate the present healthy demand for the product.

Along the Wharves.

At Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night the stage of water was 8.5 feet and stationary.

There is not much ice floating out of the Allegheny river today, the stream being practically clear of it.

Capt. William Hoag of Beaver, Pa., was in Pittsburgh yesterday on business.

Business is exceedingly quiet about the river front and no revival is anticipated until there is a big rise in the rivers.

Mate William Stapleton has been given the position of chief mate on the fine Kate Adams by Capt. Robert Agnew at Memphis.

The Harry Brown is at Louisville, her repairs having been finished at Madison and the boat is about ready to come up the river.

The snagboat E. A. Woodruff is removing the sunken coal barge at Rising Sun, which was left there early in the season by the J. B. Finley.

Joseph Gra, who has been confined to the Mercy hospital for some time, was discharged yesterday. He may go south for the benefit of his health.

Capt. Thomas Patterson, a Pittsburgh and New Orleans pilot, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to be out yesterday for the first time.

Capt. Alexander McMichaels of Port Perry, who is seriously ill with pneumonia, was no better yesterday. His attending physicians say that he cannot live.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company has bought the entire output of coal bottoms and barges that will be made this season by Collins & Darrah.

The citizens of Marietta want the entrance to the Muskingum river dredged, and Pittsburgh rivermen will help to get an appropriation from congress to have the work done.

The towboat Oakland has left Louisville for Point Pleasant with a tow of empties. The Oakland will only be [illegible] account of the low condition of the river.

Capt. Isaac B. Williams, the local steamboat hull inspector, has the model of his contemplated new yacht on exhibition in the steamboat inspector's office. He may build a new boat.

David Phillips, a well-known fireman and a brother of Capt. Daniel Phillips, died yesterday at the Mercy hospital of pneumonia. A number of rivermen are confined to that institution with the same malady.

Representatives Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana and John L. Sheppard of Texas have jointly introduced into the national congress a bill appropriating $3,500,000 for the improvement of Red river from the head of navigation at Fulton, Ark., to Denison, Tex.

ADVISED NOT TO GO IN.

Committee Which Investigated Pittsburgh and Acapulco County Favors Project.

Although the investigating committee of the proposed organization of the Pittsburgh & Acapulco Company of Mexico made a favorable report to the capitalists of Western Pennsylvania at a recent meeting of the committee at Oil City, they advised the business men interested not to enter into the incorporation of the company under the conditions proposed by the promoters. There were a number of Pittsburgh capitalists interested in the Mexican plantation proposition. The committee said that the land the company proposed buying was fertile and most favorable for the purposes of the company, but the conditions of the organization with reference to capitalists in Western Pennsylvania interested in the project were not favorable.

The promoters of the company were Gen. Willis J. Hullings of Oil City and Senor Joan Arce of the City of Mexico. The object of the company was to buy a tract of land in the state of Guerrero, Mexico, comprising 643,000 acres. The company then proposed to turn this tract of land into an immense plantation. It was intended to cultivate coffee, sugar, cotton, rubber, tropical fruits and raise cattle and sheep. The investment involved the expenditure of several millions of dollars. The tract was located in the southwestern part of the state and had a frontage of 32 miles along the Pacific ocean.

Shot Herself Three Times.

CANTON, O., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. S. W. Riseling, about 30 years of age, attempted suicide this evening with a small revolver. She fired one bullet into her head, another into her breast and a third which lodged in her corset. Her wounds are not considered fatal. Mrs. Riseling is a sister of "Jack" Adams, the tenant on the McKinley farm.

Philadelphia

Here are the two best styles that good taste and hatters' skill can produce.

The Philadelphia derby, you will observe, has a wide brim. It's the hat that the nobby boys in Philadelphia are wearing at present.

You'll say that it's an extreme style to be sure, but did you ever see any swell style that didn't have an extreme appearance at the first glance?

The New York or Court derby is less extreme, it has a high, slightly tapering crown and moderate width brim.

Either style, $3.

The Spring style Acme derbies are so handsome that I won't hide them another moment.

I have pointed crown derbies, 5¾ and 6 inches high, with eyelets and English hat guards; also low crowns, if you prefer them.

STANDARD OIL WAGES ITS WAR EVEN IN RUSSIA

Native Producers Fear They Will Be Driven Out of Their Home Field.

HOW COMBINE MANAGES IT

The Lower It Cuts Price of Refined Petroleum the More Money It Makes on By-Products—Tennessee Coal and Iron Getting Up-to-Date.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Standard Oil Company's campaign in Russia has attracted a great deal of interest. Russian oil producers, it is said, have almost despaired of competing successfully with the American combine. The Standard Oil program is reflected in the number of Russian concerns that have gone into bankruptcy during the past year and the still larger number that have been forced to reduce their dividends. In several instances the Standard Oil Company has reduced oil to a price at which the Russian concerns are unable to offer competition.

The American combine has recently acquired a number of good producing properties in Russia, but its policy has been rather to discourage new development than to extend its interests. This information is given by a financier who recently returned from Europe. He adds that the Standard Oil Company, notwithstanding the appearance of new competition in the orient, is doing a larger business there than ever before.

Making More on By-Products.

It was reported in Wall street today that the next Standard Oil dividend would be 15 per cent for the current quarter, as compared with 20 per cent for the corresponding quarter of last year. It is known, however, that several blocks of Standard Oil stock offered on the curb have been bought for inside interests and also that Mr. Rockefeller and his immediate associates have been buying stock privately.

The net income of the Standard Oil Company on by-products exceeds its income on petroleum alone. The present price of refined oil has reduced the profits considerably on petroleum, but the effect has been to increase the margin of profit on Standard Oil's by-products.

The combine scrupulously withholds information as to its recent acquisitions in this country. It is said that as a buyer of oil the Standard Oil Company already has practical control of the Texas field.

Higher Prices For Bar Iron.

Advices received here today by steel trade interests were that the advance of $2 a ton in the price of bar iron, as forecasted in this city yesterday, virtually has gone into effect in the west. Certain adjustments have yet to be made, and for this purpose representatives of the Western Bar Iron association will meet next Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

Fewer Heads for Tennessee Iron.

It is understood that the duties of the [illegible]sident of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company will devolve upon Chairman Bacon permanently, and that the two vacancies caused, one by the retirement of ex-President Baxter and another by the death of Frederick H. Benedict, will not be filled, wherefore the number of directors will be accordingly reduced. The business of the company is said to be highly satisfactorily, but some surplus earnings are being turned back into the property, and this policy will be continued for some time to come.

Mr. Bacon frankly recognizes the disadvantages under which the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company competes with more modernly equipped properties, and it is his policy to install up-to-date machinery as rapidly as possible. The new universal mill at Ensley, Ala., has given a good account of itself, but has not yet rolled any rails. It is capable of producing several kinds of finished materials, including wire rods.

New York and Chicago Banks.

The recent acquisition of an important interest in the Commercial National bank of Chicago by New York financiers, is but one of a series of similar deals consummated during the past year. The amount of interior bank stocks now carried by New York interests is larger than ever before in the history of American banking. Among the prominent New York institutions which in this way have strengthened their relations with interior banks are the National City bank, Western National bank, Chase National bank, National Bank of Commerce and the Hanover National bank.

Several large Chicago banks are affiliated more or less directly with New York institutions. For example, a considerable amount of the stock of the First National bank of Chicago is held by National City bank or Standard Oil interests. Prominent interests of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, including President John J. Mitchell, have recently entered the First National bank of this city, thereby affiliating themselves with the Morgan party, and the same interests may be said to have practical control of the Continental Trust Company of this city, which will soon take Chicago financiers into its directorate.

New York Capital in Pittsburgh.

Several New York bankers also are interested in the new Colonial Trust Company of Pittsburgh, among these being President Fairchild of the New York Security and Trust Company. Pittsburgh, indeed, is rapidly becoming one of the strongholds of New York banking interests. In the amount of business it transacts with New York, Pittsburgh ranks fourth among interior cities. The first three are Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago in the order named.

A large percentage of the shares of important banks of Boston and Philadelphia are held in this city. New York business with out-of-town banks has grown so rapidly during the last few years that closer relations have come to be a necessity. Interior deposits in New York now aggregate something like $400,000,000, and it is for the purpose of corralling a larger percentage of these deposits that several New York banks have been buying the stocks of the interior banks.

Relief from Freight Blockade.

New York iron and steel interests were deeply gratified today by receipt of private advices that the congestion of tonnage in the manufacturing districts, particularly in the Pittsburgh district, is being rapidly relieved. There is now less concern over the transportation situation than in any previous time since the railroads first threw up their hands and confessed their inability to handle the tonnage offered. An official of one of the railroads most directly concerned said today that within a month conditions in the iron districts will again be normal.

Glass Combine's Shrewd Strategy.

A local brokerage house today received the following from its Pittsburgh correspondents:

The possibility of a settlement between the trust and the independent producers of window glass is as remote as ever. The advance in the wages of the employes of the American Window Glass Company was a clever piece of strategy on the part of the trust, and has brought confusion to the ranks of the independents. The latter undoubtedly will be compelled to follow the action of the trust, and as they are booked far ahead, the loss to independents will be heavy. The American Window Glass Company has booked little business, so that it will lose nothing in consequence of contracts negotiated when prices were low. The advance of 15 per cent in the wages of workmen is equivalent to an increase of 9 per cent in the cost of production.

Bolt and Nut Prices Advanced.

The Nut and Bolt Manufacturers association held a conference today at the Waldorf-Astoria and advanced prices for these products. No authoritative information was available, the gentlemen themselves refusing to say to what extent their schedule had been altered. Formal notice of the changes will be forthcoming later.

The United Box Board Company, with a capital of between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000, will be incorporated within the next few days. It will be a consolidation of upward of 40 companies. Standard Oil interests are back of the project.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

The heavy snowfall is interfering with operations in the lower southwest fields and causing no little trouble to the telegraph service. But few completed wells were reported yesterday, and none of them of any great importance.

In the Salem district, in Harrison county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company drilled its No. 6 on the Smith Varner farm and the well produced 50 barrels the first 14 hours.

On the extreme west side of the Wallace development, in Doddridge county, the same company has drilled its test well on the J. L. Lambert farm deeper in the stray sand and increased its gas pressure.

In the same district, Connelly Bros. and the Carnegie Natural Gas Company have drilled their important test well on the A. Ashcraft farm into the stray sand, above the Gordon, and developed a strong gas pressure.

On Sugar creek, Union district, Pleasants county, the American Oil Development Company has drilled its No. 12 on the Mary Edgel farm through the Cow Run sand and has a duster in that formation.

On Big Knot run, Mallory Bros. & Co. have recovered the tools lost in their test well on the C. C. Weekley farm, soon after it was drilled into the sand, and it has increased its production to 130 barrels a day.

On Bens run, S. T. Ramage has drilled his No. 22 on the Reyman Brewing Company's farm into the top of the Cow Run sand and has a show for a very light well. No. 15 on the same farm is holding up at 110 barrels a day. At the present time there are but two wells drilling and two rigs up in the district.

In the Rinards Mills district, on the Ohio side, in Washington county, the Carter Oil Company's test well on the Enoch Cline farm is holding up at 150 barrels a day, and is the best producer in Southeastern Ohio.

In the Chester Hill development, in Morgan county, A. B. Allen & Co. have completed their No. 3 on the J. Ball farm and have a show for a small well.

In the same district, J. A. Henne & Co. have completed their No. 5 on the Thos. Rowland farm and have a show for a light pumper.

One-half mile south of the Montreal Oil & Gas Company's well on the George Minor farm, near Hickory Nut, Jefferson county, W. C. Kennedy & Co. have completed their test well on the Charles and Herman Knox farm and have a small pumper, good for less than 5 barrels a day.

In the Turkeyfoot extension, across the state line, in Hancock, W. Va., A. B. Smith & Co. have completed a test well on the J. R. Smith farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Legionville development, in Beaver county, Lamberton & Strohecker have drilled in their No. 3 on the W. Stewart farm and have a show for a 25-barrel producer from the 100-foot.

Near Evans City, Butler county, Fisk, Winger & Co. have completed their No. 2 on the S. C. Ramsey farm, and the well is pumping at the rate of 25 barrels a day.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—There was no return of animation to the stock market today and the bulk of the small operations was confined to a short list of stocks which advanced quite strongly from the influence of special causes. Even in these the dominant professional element was evident in the selling to take profits on the advance. There was a movement in the Vanderbilts which was apparently stimulated by the report that part of the new stock issue of the New York Central was to be exchanged for that of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, but the movement spent its force in the course of the day. St. Lawrence and Adirondack was marked up over four points apparently on the expectation that it would be taken over by New York Central.

Sugar Took the Lead.

The recently prevalent strength of the local traction stocks led by Metropolitan Street Railway continued for a time today, but the whole group succumbed to realizing. Sugar succeeded to the leadership of the market and late in the day lifted 3¼ points over last night. An advance of 10 points in the price of the product and reports of an agreement at Washington looking to the free entry of Cuban raw sugar were accountable for that movement. The news that an agreement had been reached between western railroads and packing houses to maintain rates, thus relieving the objectionable conditions against which the inquiry by the interstate commerce commission is directed, had a stimulating effect on the Pacifics, grangers and southwesterns.

Western Railroads Gain.

The recommendation in the commission's annual report in favor of allowing associations to maintain rates was also a helpful influence for western railroad stocks. Missouri Pacific led with a rise of over two points. Dealings in the railroad list were on a small scale, however. Amalgamated Copper showed some strength on the growth of foreign demand for raw copper. There are growing symptoms of a plethora of money at all of the great centers of capital. Today's reduction in the Bank of England's discount rate was contrary to expectation, as large collections of taxes were expected to deplete the London money market at this time and it was thought to be necessary to keep up the money rate in order to prevent withdrawals of French capital.

Much Money in Berlin.

Today's statement of the Bank of France shows such an accumulation there as to offer little inducement to call home capital, but Berlin seems the center of greatest redundancy, as is shown by the fact that Berlin has been buying bills in the London money market and easing the discount rate there, while in the very act of subscribing 60 times over for the proffered government loans of $75,000,000, all of which has not prevented a decline in discount rates at that center. There is a continued accumulation of money in New York also, but without the stimulating effect on speculation which is manifest at other great money centers. A remarkable development in the situation here is the fact that very large time loans, running into millions of dollars, are being negotiated at interior domestic points for New York account.

There was continued activity among usually quiet bonds and some striking gains were recorded, but the market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,445,000.

United States new 4s coupon declined ¼ per cent on the last call.

All Grain Prices Slid Down Hill

PRICES IN THE GRAIN MARKET TOOK A TUMBLE

Extreme Weakness Was in the Coarse Grains, With Corn in the Lead.

BUYING ORDERS SCARCE

Traders Were Inclined to the Belief That They Had Been Too Eager to Accept the St. Louis Strength Yesterday to Bolster Up Values.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 23.—A sharp bear attack on corn brought on by the very weak cash situation and slumps in outside markets sent prices in all pits sliding down hill today. Corn broke 2c, wheat 1⅛c, oats 1⅛c and pork 40c. After the subsidence of the panicky feeling attendant upon heavy forced selling there were slight reactions. May corn registered a net loss of 1⅝c, May wheat ⅝@¾c and May oats 1c. Provisions closed 2½@20c to 22½c lower.

All speculative markets were weak, but the extreme weakness was in coarse grains, corn leading in the depression. At the opening this cereal seemed ripe for a break and break it did. The initial incentive was the extremely bearish talk about the bottom being out of the Kansas City cash market yesterday.

Buying Orders Scarce.

It was reported that Kansas City houses were making hedging sales on the Milwaukee curb, and when this market opened the supposed weakness showed itself by heavy southwestern selling here. May started ¼ to ⅝c down at 63⅞@63⅝c. There was an almost entire absence of buying orders, cables were weak and reports mentioned a corn and oats blockade of 1,000 cars at Kansas City. St. Louis turned a prominent seller of corn and local bears started in to pound out the holdings on a prominent long professional. May broke to 62⅝c, a loss of 2 cents, but at such a price covering was profitable. There were reports also of some corn being worked to Germany and traders taking into consideration the small estimate of 60 cars for tomorrow brought a half-hearted reaction. May sold back to 63¼c, but closed weak, 1⅝c lower at 62⅞c. Receipts were 80 cars.

Wheat was naturally weak on the corn depression. But everything else was against the price, sentiment, news and general conditions. Statistician reports indicated a good crop condition and favorable weather. Traders were inclined to the belief that they had been too eager to accept the St. Louis strength yesterday to bolster up values. Cables were fidgety and closed lower. Foreign reports forecasted good crops in Russia and India. Outside markets were lower at the start and May opened ⅛ to ⅝c down at 79¼c to 79⅜c. When corn broke May followed after and sank to 78⅝c. Reports of a good export demand with shipments varying from 15 to 30 loads, helped prices later. A slight reaction sent May to 79⅛c, but the close was weak, ⅝@¾c down at 78⅞@79c.

Local Receipts.

Local receipts were 15 cars, none of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 325 cars, making a total for the three points of 340 cars, against 481 cars last week and 259 cars a year ago. Primary receipts were 414,000 bushels, compared to 380,000 bushels last year. The seaboard reported 23 cars taken for export.

In the oats pit the sentiment seemed to be not to get caught holding high-priced oats, regardless of what dominating professionals might do. In line with the stampede in corn there was a general selling of May oats and a strong attempt was made to raid one holder who is long so much that he is supposed to control the market. No oats came from his quarter, however.

The break was bad notwithstanding, May selling off 1⅛ to 44⅞c. Some support developed at the low figure and May sold up again to 45⅜c. The close was weak, 1c down at 45⅛c. Receipts were 166 cars.

The early feeling in provisions was strong following the influence of a good hog market. On the grain weakness heavy liquidation of long stuff developed and prices eased. The early business was considerable, but late trade turned dull and heavy. May pork sold between $16 15 and $16 60, and closed 20@22½c down at $16 35. May lard closed 7½c lower at $9 42½, and May ribs 2½c down at $8 50.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 60 cars; oats, 150 cars; hogs, 31,000 head.

Large Claims Against Traction Companies

MANY DAMAGE SUITS WERE PUT ON THE RECORDS

Traction Companies Defendants in $111,800 Charged to Negligence.

CONDUCTORS IN TROUBLE

Isabel Rice Wants $25,000, Alleging a Car Started Too Soon, Causing Her Husband's Death—Telephone Co. Charged With False Arrest.

Suits in trespass aggregating $114,300 were entered yesterday in the county courts. The different traction companies were the defendants in $111,800 worth of the suits, and in all of them their employes are charged with negligence.

Seth C. Rogers and wife sued the Consolidated Traction Company for $20,000 for alleged injuries received by Mrs. Rogers at Howe spring on Fifth avenue in a collision between cars.

Isabel Rice sued the same company for $25,000 damages for the death of her husband, Charles E. Rice, on November 5, 1901. It is claimed Rice was requested to step from a car to allow a woman to alight, when the car was started and he was thrown against a pole, sustaining injuries that caused his death.

There were four suits against the United Traction Company. Damages were asked for Rachel Lebowitz, 6 years old, who was injured while crossing Fifth avenue, McKeesport, and in behalf of Howard McBeth, who was struck by a car at Homestead. David McNeal wants $20,000 damages from the company for being struck by a car on California avenue, Allegheny, and Gilbert Grabb, $300 damages for the death of his horse.

William C. Walsh sued the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $1,000 damages for alleged assault at the hands of a conductor. J. R. Harworth claims a conductor threw him from a car and sued the Suburban Rapid Transit Street Railway Company for $500 damages. Thomas Tighe sued the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Traction Company for $10,000 damages for alleged injuries received by being struck by a car on Carson street.

Joseph and Jacob Amsler entered suit against the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company for $5,000 each for alleged false arrest upon charges of stealing wire. Mary Beloschek sued Mike Bloksal and wife for $1,000 damages for alleged slander. Edward Patchen sued J. M. Wells for $500 damages for alleged misrepresentation made relative to the shipment of trolley poles.

DR. J. D. THOMAS' WILL.

Commends His Children, but Leaves Estate to His Widow.

The will of Dr. J. D. Thomas, late of the South Side, was filed. The paper was executed November 19, 1901, while Dr. Thomas was ill. The testator's wife, Sarah Lizzie Thomas, was made executrix as long as she would remain his widow, but this part of the will was stricken out and the American Trust Company was substituted. The estate is valued at $37,000.

The testator's children are each bequeathed $5, with this explanation: "In doing this there is no disrespect meant to the children, for they are amongst the most lovely. My object is to keep the estate together." The estate goes to Mrs. Thomas.

By the will of J. Nelson Ewing, late of North Fayette township, a farm of 96 acres goes to his children.

THREE DIVORCE CASES.

One Husband Threatened to Shoot His Wife Because She Refused to Commit a Crime.

The master in the divorce case of Ruth M. Jones against Joseph W. Jones filed a report, recommending that a decree be granted. It is charged the respondent had a habit of kissing the servant girls. The couple was married March 26, 1896 and separated in July, 1900.

Mrs. Jones says her husband began to abuse her shortly after their marriage and that he would throw things at and kick the children. It was testified that when the meals prepared would not suit him he would throw them on the floor, and upon one occasion he threatened to shoot his wife because she would not commit a crime.

Commissioner Attorney Harry Diamond, in the divorce case of Mary E. Matz against Peter J. Matz, filed his report. The libelant alleges her husband would kick and abuse her, that he was a hard drinker and threatened to burn her to death by throwing a lighted lamp at her.

The master in the divorce case of Charles E. Schott against Emma C. Schott recommended that a decree be granted on the ground of desertion. They were married August 22, 1898 and lived together about six months.

News From the Mines

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The 150-ton concentrating plant of the Lena at Lordsburg, N. M., will be in operation early in February. Ore values in the mine average $20 gold, 15 per cent silver and 10 per cent copper.

Operations will be resumed soon on the Gettysburg properties, Lump Gulch, Central district, Col., in which eastern capitalists are interested.

Rich quartz, liberally sprinkled with free gold, is being obtained from a surface vein owned by the Fairchance Company at Cripple Creek.

Three prospectors have arrived at Weiser, Ida., from the Thunder mountain district with fine samples of gold, silver, [illegible], copper and cinnabar ores, and one chunk of quartz weighing [illegible] pounds is literally seamed with gold.

In the Annie Laurie, at Kimberley, Utah, there is one body of ore in sight that is valued at $2,500,000. Some of the rock yields over $1,000 to the ton. The mill is treating 200 tons a day, but the output of the mine can be increased to 300 tons daily.

Free gold ore has been uncovered in the bottom of the shaft of the Treasure Hill near Kingman, Ariz., that assays 20,000 a ton. A two-foot streak in the shaft carries high-grade silver in addition to the gold.

Good yellow copper and iron ore has been found in the Hamlet, near Central City, Col. The Leonard, in the same district, is carrying lead and yellow copper ore that runs $[illegible] to the ton.

A large ore zone has been discovered in the breast of the tunnel of the Kankakee, in Eastern San Juan county, Col. The tunnel also has encountered a 14-foot body of gold-silver ore, in connection with silica, which averages $10 a ton.

Leadville reports that the production of manganese this month will not be so large as it was in December. Since the reduction in prices the output has been greatly curtailed, the mine managers saying they cannot produce this class of ore without a loss.

We Recommend Buying U. S. Steel Stocks.

We will purchase and carry either the Common or Preferred on a margin of 5 points. That is, the person buying furnishes $5 per share on the number of shares bought, and we furnish the balance of the purchase price, charging interest at the rate of 6% per annum on the amount we advance. Those buying on margin get the dividends the same as though they owned the certificates outright. We will deliver the certificates at any time to any one buying on margin on the payment of the balance due. We execute orders either for delivery or on margin. At present quotations these stocks make a handsome return on the investment, especially the common, as will be shown by the following:

EXAMPLE OF PURCHASE 100 SHARES.

100 U. S. S. Common at 43	$4,300 00
Commission	12 50
	4,312 50
Margin deposited by purchaser	500 00
Balance of Purchase Price, advanced by us	3,812 50
Dividends 100 shares for one year	400 00
Interest for one year, 6 per cent	228 75
Net Income to Purchaser for one year	171 25

Is not this an unusually good return on an investment of only $500 00 actual cash? It will make a nice addition to any one's income, besides the added feature of being not only safe, but also the certainty (as expressed by those most capable of judging) that the stock will sell many dollars per share higher, thus giving not only a good income in the meantime, but the opportunity of selling out later at a profit.

We are thorough believers in very much higher prices for the United States Steel Stocks. We have issued a circular letter giving our reasons at length, which we will mail free on request. We shall be glad to go over in detail with any one interested the matter of making an investment in the Steel Stocks, either by correspondence or as a personal interview.

Local Stocks Were Irregular, but Volume of Business Quite Good

Refined Sugar Advances--Eggs Are Easier

FEATURES WERE LIMITED AND CAUSES SCARCE

Window Glass Went Down, but Nobody Would Tell the Reason Why.

RIVER COAL WAS ACTIVE

High Prices Were Paid for Bank and Trust Company Shares—Philadelphia Common Had a Rally—The Steels Were Dull but Steady.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $388,043 85.

Total sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 9,624 shares; $62,000 bonds and 1,600 receipts.

1,370 Window Glass sold. Closed 48⅜.

3,750 River Coal common sold. Closed 13⅝.

Pittsburgh Coal shares fairly active and steady.

Pittsburgh Trust sold 75 shares at $580.

Philadelphia common advanced ¾ to 47¼. Sales 600 shares.

Westinghouse Airbrake advanced $1 to $173.

Federal National bank made a new high record. Closed 130.

Steel stocks were dull but steady.

Fire Proofing issues were quiet and lower.

There was not a great deal to the market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday. In some respects it was quite interesting, but in others it was exceedingly dull, which was contrary to the hopes and expectations of the bulls. The result was a fair day's business as to the volume of sales, but a sore disappointment to those who looked for a rise in some of the recent especial favorites. Generally, the active list finished lower but about steady, while the inactive shares, which are usually traded in lightly, showed some big gains. American Window Glass common, for instance, was declared a good "buy" Wednesday evening, because of the advance in the wages of some of its employes, but the boom didn't pan out, as only 1,370 shares found a market and the stock closed ⅝ lower for the day, at 48⅜. This, however, was $1 above the lowest point. A certain alleged bear, taking advantage of the sluggishness of the market, offered to sell the next dividend on the issue at 90 cents a share, instead of $1 a share, as he has heretofore asked, but met with no takers. It is very rare that any local broker ever buys prospective dividend and hence the "bear" was undoubtedly pretty safe. As for any reason for the decline, other than a lack of agreement with the independents, or other harmonious arrangement, there was none. Nobody could, or would, tell why the stock went down or didn't go up. So the public is still left "in the air." In the other issues the greatest activity was in River Coal common, which sold nearly 4,000 shares. At one time it sold at 13¾ and looked as if it was going higher, but it closed at 13⅝, only ⅛ above Wednesday. There are some bulls on the stock who predict a much higher price, but do not assign any reason. The other coalers were fairly steady and active, but the changes were slight and unimportant. Steel stocks were dull and narrow. Brewing issues held steady at unchanged prices. The bank and trust stocks showed a fair demand and some brought much higher prices. Philadelphia Company common also displayed signs of awakening, 600 shares selling at 46¾@47¼, the close being firm at the top, a gain of ¾. Consolidated Traction receipts were also quite active and fractionally higher. There was a big bid for Chartiers Railway stock at the last call. A small lot—four shares only—sold at 150, which price was 55½ above the last public sale and $10 above the highest bid. Then 175 was bid for 6,000 shares, the rumor being that the Wabash wanted the stock. Of course, there was no confirmation. Westinghouse Airbrake rallied $1 to 173 and the Electrics were passed without a sale. Bonds were quite active and firm, but the trading was unimportant. In the quotations, Citizens National Bank advanced $4 to $85 bid; Keystone Bank $10 to $385 bid (a new high record). Bank of Secured Savings ½ to 70 bid and Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad 1 to $137 bid, both the latter also being new high records.

Financial Drift.

At noon 23¼ was bid for 500 Crucible Steel common.

173 was bid for 2 Westinghouse Airbrake at the last call.

At the last call 5 Pittsburgh Trust Company offered at 595.

At the last call 78 was bid for Erie & Pittsburgh railroad stock.

At the second call there was a bid of 25 for 1,000 Pittsburgh Coal common.

Beaver Coal 5s sold at the last call at 103¾, a loss of ¼ since Wednesday.

Columbia Fire Proofing sold at 45 yesterday, the same price it brought September 25, 1901.

At the final session 25 was again bid for 1,000 Pittsburgh Coal common; 25⅛ was asked.

Sterling exchange was steady and a shade higher. The market is quite firm on 60-day bills.

Hall offered the April dividend on 1,000 American Window Glass common at 90 cents a share.

Not a single share of National Fire Proofing common or preferred changed hands on the first call.

M. K. McMullin bid 275 for City Trust at the last call; this is a new high record and a gain of $5 since Wednesday.

Bond purchases at New York and Washington Wednesday amounted to $54,850, making the total since November 1, $20,421,110.

It is said that in well informed circles it is now regarded as certain that congress will consent to a 25 per cent reduction on the tariff on raw sugar.

One of the best features of the present situation is the bond market. This department is notably active and strong. The buying is thought to be not the covering of shorts.

The Sun says the New York Central will spend a part of the new stock in buying the Big Four stock, which is to be turned into the New York Central treasury at about $96 per share.

Henry Sproul & Co. bid 175 for 6,000 shares of the Chartiers Railway Company at the last call. It is thought the stock was wanted for the Wabash. The last sale on the exchange was at 94½.

President W. I. Mustin will call a special meeting of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh stock exchange next week, to consider the petition of the members for continuous sessions of the exchange.

The First National Bank of Bridgeville is expected to begin operations about March 1, the subscription for the full amount of the capital stock of $50,000 having been completed. Nearly the full amount was taken by Bridgeville and Carnegie capital.

During the last two days Henry M. Long has sold about 600 shares of National Fire Proofing common around 41 and 42; Mr. Long states that this stock was a pure gain for the seller, who made about $13,000 clear, having received the shares as a bonus when the preferred was floated.

At the annual meeting of the Central Accident Insurance Company the following directors were elected: S. S. Marvin, Joseph A. Langfitt, P. M. Pfeil, D. F. Henry, William T. Lindsey, J. P. Ober, Ralph Butler, S. Wertheimer, Joseph S. Brown, H. J. Heinz, E. H. Myers, G. W. Eisenbeis, W. H. Graham, E. R. Alsop and W. C. Lyne.

At the first call a block of $1,000 Consolidated Traction preferred receipts sold at 64½, the same as Tuesday's price; at noon 100 of the common sold at 23½, an advance of ⅜; after the first call 35 shares of the preferred stock sold at 64, which is the first trade in the stock since December 23, 1901, when the price was 63.

Private advices from Cincinnati say that a New York money broker borrowed $2,000,000 on time from a leading institution. It is known that New York money brokers have made this week equally large loans in the business centers of the country. It is stated by experienced money brokers that some New Yorkers, presumably the largest firm in Wall street, has this week borrowed $25,000,000 on time.

The regular monthly meeting of Pittsburgh Chapter, American Institute of Bank Clerks, will be held in the United Presbyterian assembly rooms, Ninth street and Penn avenue, Monday evening, January 27, at 8 o'clock. The address of the evening will be "Modern Banker and Foreign Exchange," by Max peixeira de Mattos, of the First National bank, Pittsburgh.

At the last call a funny incident occurred. W. I. Mustin of Geo. B. Hill & Co. had offered American Window Glass common at 48½. Then he told the recording boy to "put the star on it," which meant he was willing either to buy or sell at that price. No sooner than he ordered the "star" placed on the figures than R. C. Hall said: "Sold." "Well, which way?" said Mustin. "Either way you want it," replied Hall, and Mustin took 50 shares at the price. It is the first time such a "hit" has ever been made on the local exchange. Mr. Hall was remarkably quick in his "sold," and equally alert in his, "Either way you want it." It is rarely "Billy," as the exchange's able president is familiarly termed by his intimates, is ever "caught," but this was one of the times. It was a toss up with him whether he bought or sold.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Braddock Trust Company the following directors were chosen: Eli N. Dowler, George Nash, Harry M. Scott, James A. Suter and Benjamin Braznell. George C. Watt was elected secretary and treasurer, in addition to his office of cashier of the First National bank. The proposal to increase the capital stock from $125,000 to $375,000 was rejected.

Copper was higher in London yesterday. There was better buying of Amalgamated, and the Boston coppers, though quiet, were firmer in tone. There were very few stocks offering and it is thought another sharp rally would result from comparatively little buying. It will take time for the market to get under way, it is claimed, but is thought the prospects are that better prices for both copper and copper stocks will prevail before the winter is gone.

Dividends.

The Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company has declared a dividend of 1¾ per cent quarterly on the assenting stock.

It is said that the American Ice Company will issue a statement about February 10 of the January business, and that they will pay the regular dividend.

Earnings and Reports.

Forty-seven roads, second week in January, show average net increase of 16.73 per cent.

Earnings Wisconsin Central for the third week of January increased $5,330; from July 1 they increased $302,773.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Decline in Corn Quotations. Potatoes Abundant and Weak.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

The market continues slow, with demand steady, but not active, while prices are weak. Corn quotations went off a half cent yesterday, and oats are no more than holding their own.

Receipts bulletined: Manchester yards, 12 cars hay, 6 cars straw, 5 cars corn, 3 cars feed, 1 car rye; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car corn; total receipts, 33 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Groceries.

Refined sugar advanced ten points yesterday throughout the entire list, and local quotations are changed accordingly. Manufacturers of syrups have gotten together and put up prices on both can and barrel syrup, but Pittsburgh jobbers have not yet followed the advance. The weakness in the corn and oats markets is having a tendency to bring down quotations for corn and oat meals, and prices are declining. Beans are weakening, while dried peas are scarcer and higher.

Fruits and Produce.

The principal item of interest in the market is the potato situation, receipts being very heavy and prices weak. A number of track sales at cost are reported. Good roads in New York state are enabling farmers to market potatoes readily, and they are showing much anxiety to sell. Onions are offering freely and are lower in price. Turnips are higher. Florida tomatoes and spinach are in light demand, and cheaper. Business is quiet.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

Butter and cheese are steady and unchanged. The egg situation is full of uncertainty, not being satisfactorily comprehended by dealers themselves. While supplies of fresh are light, yet a few cases are arriving from shippers who have had nerve to consign for some time. Jobbers are afraid to take hold of stock except on commission, and nearly all fresh eggs are being sold on the market. Demand continues light, and the hurry to sell stock as fast as received for fear of a break keeps prices from advancing, and the tendency is toward easiness in spite of the lightness of receipts. Quotations as given closely reflect actual selling yesterday.

Extensive Repairs for Some Downtown Buildings

TWO HOUSES IN BUTLER STREET BRING $20,000

Joseph A. Schad Purchases the Properties at Nos. 3405 and 3407.

NEVILLE ISLAND DEALS

A $40,000 Block to Be Built at No. 212 Fifth Avenue—Watson Block Will Be Remodeled for Offices. Sales in Sewickley and Braddock.

A cash sale of $20,000 in the Seventeenth ward came to light yesterday. The seller was William Duckham and the buyer Joseph A. Schad. The deal was negotiated by A. E. Duckham. The property purchased is known as Nos. 3405 and 3407 Butler street and consists of a lot facing 40 feet in Butler street at the corner of Penn avenue, and having a depth of 100 feet. The lot is occupied by two three-story brick buildings, the lower floor of each being used for a store room and the upper floors for apartments. The purchaser occupies one of the store rooms as a wholesale liquor store. The property was bought for investment.

Two more plots in Neville Island have been sold by R. A. Phillips for a price approximating $25,000, or $2,000 an acre. The purchasers are E. C. Kleinman, who secured eight and one-half acres and A. H. Kerr, who bought four acres. The property is situated near the lower end of the island and will probably be improved, although the purchasers stated yesterday that they had no definite plans formulated.

New Block for Fifth Avenue.

It was learned yesterday that the old three-story brick building at No. 212 Fifth avenue, at the corner of Masters way, is to be torn down and replaced by a four or five-story modern brick building, to cost probably $40,000. The lot, which measures 20x80 feet, is owned by George W. Guthrie. Mr. Guthrie said yesterday that while he intended to erect a new building on the site within the next few months the contracts had not been let and no details could be given out. Some time ago it was reported that this property, with several adjoining, was involved in a deal amounting to over $1,000,000. Mr. Guthrie said that there had been no deal on for his own lot and another property owner near by is authority for the statement that new three-year leases have been granted by the others.

Plans for the improvement of the Watson block, adjoining the Lewis block in Smithfield street, which were partly announced when the former was purchased by Henry W. Oliver, in the fall, are practically completed. The work of remodeling will begin in April.

Atha & Atha Will Move.

Mr. Oliver has arranged with Atha & Atha, who have a long lease on the Watson building, to remove their department store to the Eichbaum building, in Fifth avenue, April 1. He will also build for this firm two additional stories on the Eichbaum block to replace those that were destroyed by fire some time ago. The Watson building is to be converted into a modern office structure. The floors will be connected with those in the Lewis block, making the two buildings practically one. The plans are also completed for the improvement of the Stevenson block, adjoining the Lewis block, in Sixth avenue. Two more stories will be added to this and the two upper floors will be connected with the corresponding floors of the Lewis block which will be on a level with them.

Good Sales in Sewickley.

Two sales of Sewickley property were reported yesterday, the amount involved being $17,000. Lake & Baltz sold to E. Lavender an improved lot, 23x66 feet, at the southwest corner of Walnut and Beaver streets, for $9,000 cash. A two-story brick building, part of which is now occupied as a dry goods store, stands on the lot. The other sale was of a lot 45x116 feet, in Broad street for $8,000. The property was owned by Dr. J. Collard White and was purchased by Mrs. George W. Beatty. The lot is improved with an eight-room house.

Another deal of $10,000 was reported closed, but no particulars could be learned. That Sewickley property, especially residence lots, is in good demand is proved by the fact that one broker has closed four deals for homes the last week, none of which have yet been announced.

North Braddock Residence Sold.

Wilson D. Packer of the firm of Packer & Redman, Braddock, has purchased from J. Grant Anderson of the Shook-Anderson Company his residence in North Braddock for $10,500. The house is a 12-room structure with walls of stone and wood. It stands on a lot 100x132 feet, in the old Anderson homestead grounds, which include 30 acres and where the Anderson house and the residence of Charles Anderson are also located. The house, which is opposite the North Braddock school, is reached by an entrance from Bell avenue. Mr. Packer bought the property for a home. Mr. Anderson, it is understood, has about concluded the purchase of a fine residence in the East End.

John M. Clifford, Braddock, sold for H. L. Douglas to Peter G. Stang, a lot 25x100 feet, in Hawkins avenue, near Fourth street, North Braddock, for $1,100 cash. The purchaser will improve by building.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, but Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gasses, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played-out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surface of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

PREPONDERANCE OF APPALACHIAN REGION IN MINES

PITTSBURGH IN THE BELT

Abundance of Fuel Here Compels All Other Mining Districts, Like Lake Superior and Cuba, to Pay Us Tribute—West Virginia Production

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.

The director of the geological survey has made public an abstract of the report on the mining industries of the Appalachian region. This region, he says, is the seat of the greatest mineral industries of the country, either in the production of raw materials or in their manufacture in some higher form of finished product. Coal and iron are the bases of the region's industrial wealth.

A brief review shows that this region furnished over 6,000,000 long tons of iron ore of the total of a little over 27,500,000 tons for the whole country. The Lake Superior region in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin furnished about 20,500,000 tons, leaving something like 1,000,000 tons for all the rest of the country.

Production of Bessemer.

But when we follow this iron one step further to its conversion into pig iron we find that the Appalachian region, with Pennsylvania far in the lead, produced in round numbers about 9,500,000 long tons of the total output of 13,789,242 tons, and if we follow this pig iron a step or two further we find that this same region produced in round numbers, about 4,500,000 long tons of the total of 6,684,770 tons of Bessemer steel ingots; about 2,850,000 long tons of a total of 3,308,135 tons of open-hearth steel, more than three-fifths of the total of 2,361,921 long tons of Bessemer steel rails, and about two-thirds of all the wire nails produced in 1900.

The explanation of this disproportion of manufactures is readily seen in the production by Pennsylvania of all but about 100,000 short tons of the output of 57,466,819 tons of anthracite coal; in the production by this region of a little over 67 per cent of the total output of bituminous coal; in the production of fully 85 per cent of the total output of coke; in the production of over 57 per cent of the total output of 63,362,704 barrels of crude petroleum, and of natural gas to the value of about $16,000,000 out of a total of $23,606,463.

Other Regions Pay Tributes.

The abundance of fuel of the region compels other sections to pay tribute to it. The iron ores of Lake Superior and the iron ores of Cuba alike find their way to the furnaces of Pennsylvania.

West Virginia shows how powerfully transportation affects the region within itself, and takes from one state to feed another. West Virginia produced in 1900, in round numbers, 22,600,000 short tons of bituminous coal; 4,747,000 tons of coke, 13,910,000 barrels of crude petroleum, and natural gas to the value of about $3,000,00, and she is credited with only 166,738 long tons of pig iron, and her production of steel and manufactured iron was not sufficiently important to cause her to be distinguished from "other States" in the reports.

Industrial Commission Recommends the Trust Policy Favored by the President—Ideas on Taxes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—The industrial commission, after several years spent in investigating the industrial conditions of the country, has completed and sent to the printer its final report. It is expected that this report will be presented to congress within the next few days.

On the subject of trusts the commission follows closely the lines of recommendations laid down by the president in his annual message. Supervision by the national government is recommended. The most radical specific step suggested is that the books of all corporations should be subject at all times to inspection, as are the books of national banks. This, it is claimed, would go far toward protecting the public against impositions in the way of overcapitalization and other devices.

The commission discusses government ownership of railroads and telegraph lines, but does not recommend such a departure from present methods.

There are some recommendations concerning taxation that will attract attention. One of these looks to the imposition of certain taxes on private property by the states direct.

The report has been signed by all the members, except some of the congressional members, who withhold their signatures because they have not had an opportunity to examine the report carefully.

TROUBLE FOR P. C. KNOX.

Anti-Cruelty Society Charges Him With Over-Checking His Horses. Friends Deny Accusation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Attorney General Knox has received from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals a letter accusing him of over-checking his pair of fast trotting and high-stepping horses. It is not known what steps will follow this letter, but it is known that the attorney general does not consider that he is doing his horses any harm.

Friends of Mr. Knox deny that he is cruel to his horses. They say human beings are no better treated or handled than this famous pair of trotters. Mr. Knox pays a man $70 a month, with room and board, to care for his horses. This stableman is required to give the horses a bath of hot soap suds after each drive, and to follow the bath with witch hazel and alcohol. The most careful attention is bestowed upon their food. While the horses are checked a little more than usual with ordinary horses, it is declared that they could not be driven any other way, their high spirit making it dangerous to drive them under less checking. The animals were bred to this and would not know what to do otherwise.

ANTI-ANARCHY LAW.

House Sub-Committee Frames a New Bill from the Diverse Material Set Before It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—The details of a bill restricting anarchy and anarchists was practically determined upon today by the special committee of members of the house judiciary committee appointed to consider this subject.

The measure will provide the death penalty for an attempt to kill or assault the president or any one in line of succession for the presidency. An accessory before the fact is to be treated as a principal, and an accessory after the fact is punished in a less degree than a principal. Any person who counsels, advises or advocates the assaulting or killing any officer of the United States shall be fined or imprisoned. No alien who advocates an overthrow of organized government or who is affiliated with an organization holding such views is to be admitted to this country. Provision also is made for the punishment of those conspiring in this country against a foreign ruler.

The special committee probably will report to the judiciary committee within the next few days and a report to the house is expected soon thereafter.

VICTORY FOR THE GRANGERS.

A Severer Anti-Oleomargarine Measure Than the Grout Bill to Be Reported to the House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—The friends of the measure for rigid restrictions on oleomargarine and kindred products carried their point before the house committee on agriculture today, which, by a vote of 12 to 5 ordered the report of a bill which is even more restrictive than the original Grout bill reintroduced by Representative McCleary of Minnesota.

Before the meeting today the friends of rigid restriction held a conference and decided on several amendments. The original bill placed a tax of 10 cents a pound on oleomargarine and butterine colored to imitate yellow butter. The word "yellow" was stricken out, thus making the restriction apply to imitations of white or any other kind of butter. Another change makes those who make uncolored butter and color it subject to all the taxes and penalties of manufacturers. When the committee met these amendments were agreed to.

The opposition to the bill proposed numerous amendments, all of which were rejected. One of these permitted the use of pure milk, cream or butter as an ingredient of oleomargarine; another applied the oleomargarine restrictions to "renovated butter."

THE PENSION ROLL.

ALLIED WITH ALLEGHENY.

Etna and Millvale Postoffices to Go Out of Existence in March.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—Representative Graham and Postmaster Grier of Allegheny had a conference at the postoffice department this morning with Assistant Superintendent Hedges of the free delivery service, regarding the consolidation of the postoffices at Etna and Millvale with the Allegheny office.

All the particulars were arranged and the consolidation will go into effect on March 10. The routes were agreed upon and seven carriers will be appointed to serve the people of Etna and Millvale.

These fourth-class postmasters were appointed today: Pennsylvania—Cheswick, Allegheny county, J. L. Mehaffey; Ohio—Elm, Tuscarawas county, M. K. Poland; Estep, Harrison county, Beatty Carrothers; Longstroh, Hocking county, F. E. Johnson.

The president today sent to the senate nominations of these Ohio postmasters: Ephraim D. Killinger, Edgerton; Leonidas S. Ebright, Akron; Ivor J. Davis, Niles.

PREFERENCE FOR VETERANS.

Something to Be Done for Former Soldiers of the Spanish War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—A delegation of Spanish war veterans called at the White house today and urged on the president the wisdom and justice of giving Spanish war veterans preference over civilians in appointments to positions in the government civil service.

The president said he recognized there is merit in the request and said he would take up the matter with the cabinet and do what he could to carry their views into practical operation.

Better Pay for Rural Postmen.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—The consideration of the urgent deficiency bill was completed by the house today, but owing to the lateness of the hour passage of the bill was postponed until tomorrow. A successful effort was made to increase the pay of rural free delivery carriers from $500 to $600 a year.

Nervous Exhaustion.

C. DE VOS, Coopersville, Mich.
NERVOUS EXHAUSTION
—BY—
WHEELER'S NERVE VITALIZER.

We desire to direct attention to the second letter written by Mr. De Vos five years after he was cured. It shows that a cure by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is always permanent.

"I broke down with nervous exhaustion and sleeplessness. Could not sleep until worn out, my appetite failed me and I had to choke down what little I did eat. My attention was directed to Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer and I concluded to try it. It had a wonderful effect on me; in a few nights I was able to get all the sleep needed, my appetite returned and became as ravenous as a wolf's, my weight increased twelve pounds, my mind became clear and active; in fact, I was restored to health and I look and feel an entirely different man."

Five years later Mr. De Vos wrote as follows:

"In reply to yours of the 26th inst., would say that I wrote a testimonial for Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer some five years ago and it had the effect then stated. The cure has been a permanent one, and I am enjoying better health and weigh more than I have for years. I can heartily recommend this remedy for sleeplessness and run-down constitutions. C. De Vos, Coopersville, Mich."

There is no form of nervous disease from Sleeplessness or Weakness to Nervous Prostration and Epileptic Fits that will not yield to Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. Proof will be sent to any one making the request.

DOLAN STANDS UP FOR MEN IN HIS BAILIWICK

Pittsburgh District Leader Has a Tilt With Edward McKay.

MITCHELL EXONERATED

He and Other National Officials Were Declared Innocent of the Charges Made Against Them by Mollie Meredith.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 23.—Aside from the complete exoneration of President Mitchell, Secretary Wilson and other national officials of the charges made against them by Mollie Meredith, the wrangling over the 12 delegates from the Pittsburgh district was the only notable feature of the fourth day of the United Mine Workers' convention. Reports of the credentials committee late in the afternoon precipitated a row between President Dolan of the Pittsurgh district and Edward McKay, member of the national board, who is also from the Pittsburgh district.

The credentials committee refused to set 12 delegates from the Pittsburgh district on the ground that their locals were behind in their dues to the national organization and that the credentials they held were given them by other locals that are in good standing. A vigorous protest followed on the part of the delega[illegible] question and President Dolan took the floor in their defense.

Dolan Challenged McKay.

McKay replied to Dolan, saying that the delegates, if the allegations were true, had no right to be seated and that he was positive there were delegates in the hall who had no right to vote. Dolan challenged McKay to prove his statement and added angrily that he was tired of the members of the national board trying to run things. The delegates applauded Dolan.

McKay hedged a trifle as he was unable to point to a single delegate in the hall who was not entitled to recognition. Vice President Lewis, who was presiding, begged the men to stop dealing in personalities and the matter was finally referred to the credentials committee, which will make a report tomorrow morning. President Mitchell was angry and he also took part in the discussion saying that no delegate should have a seat if his local was behind with its dues. The point at issue with the Pittsburgh delegates is whether or not they will have to pay their railroad fare.

National Officials Chagrined.

The rule is that the national organization pays the fares of all delegates who are regularly seated by the credentials committee. Many who were turned down by the credentials committee were allowed seats on some pretext by the convention, much to the disgust of some of the national officials, who have made it clear that there are many locals that have not shown the proper disposition to remit the capitation tax that is due the parent body.

The credentials committee did not finish its report before the afternoon adjournment, so the election of officers was made a special order of business for 10 o'clock in the morning. Mitchell, Lewis and Wilson will now be re-elected without opposition, inasmuch as the atmosphere has been cleared of Miss Meredith's charges. The miners this afternoon refused to listen to "General" Bradley, who was one of the leaders of Coxey's famous army.

A Joint Conference Friday.

A large number of operators have reserved rooms at the leading hotels here. They will come Tuesday and Wednesday and will probably have a meeting Wednesday to organize to meet the miners in joint conference Friday. It is significant that not a single operator from Virginia or West Virginia has reserved a room. This confirms the belief that has been growing among the miners' officials for sometime that the Virginia operators intend to ignore the organization as long as possible and at least for another year, as they were given a special invitation to attend this convention.

The Pennsylvania operators will have their headquarters at the Denison hotel where F. L. Robbins has engaged rooms for ten besides himself. C. J. Brookshire of Pittsburgh, manager of the coal department of the Delaware & Lackawanna railroad, has engaged a suite at the Hotel English.

Virginians Are Absent.

A large number of operators are coming from Ohio and Illinois and there will be a delegation of 12 from Missouri. Operators are also coming from Iowa, Michigan and possibly three or four other states, but they will be here more as spectators, as they are not concerned in the interstate agreement. Considerable disappointment is expressed that the Virginians have been able to hold out against the efforts of the miners' best organizers. It is announced, on the authority of some of the miners' officials that none of the states besides those now concerned will attempt to break into the inter-state agreement this year, but Iowa, at least, expects to get in next year, and is now laying plans with that end in view. Alabama, Michigan and Kentucky, besides the two Virginias, will also be brought into the fold, if the plans the miners are making here do not go wrong.

The scale committee had another meeting tonight at which the miners of some of the states were heard. The delegates from the three Pennsylvania anthracite districts held a meeting tonight, but they are not saying what they will demand.
